Maharashtra, Andhra send SOS for more stock; Centre says some states are trying to mislead and spread panic

SANA SHAKIL @ New Delhi

THE Centre and the Opposition-ruled states clashed over vaccine availability on Wednesday when India recorded a day's high of 1,15,736 fresh cases, crossing the 1-lakh mark for the second time in three days.

The Union Health Ministry came down hard on Opposition-ruled states for playing "petty politics" over vaccination and stated that there is no dearth of vaccine stock, hours after Maharashtra, Delhi, Odisha and Andhra Pradesh said that they have sent SOS alerts to the Centre over Covid vaccine scarcity.

"The lackadaisical attitude of the state government has singularly bogged down the entire country's efforts to fight the virus," Union Health Minister Harsh Vardhan said, referring to the Thackeray-led Maharashtra government.

He also criticised the Congress-led government in Chhattisgarh for being 'perhaps the only government in the world where its leaders were inciting vaccine hesitancy' and blamed its leaders for spreading "misinformation" and "panic" regarding vaccination.

Vardhan blamed states for their alleged attempts to distract attention from their failure to manage the Covid-19 pandemic and described the allegations of vaccine shortage as "baseless". Referring to Delhi, Maharashtra and Rajasthan governments' demand to open vaccination for all adults, Vardhan said that the Centre has been transparently updating all the state governments about the demand-supply dynamics and the resultant jab strategy.

In his letter, Harsh Vardhan also pointed to the lack of Covid-19 facilities in Rajasthan, Punjab as well as BJP-ruled Karnataka and Gujarat. "Many other states also need to bring their healthcare systems up to the mark. For example, the quality of testing needs to improve in Karnataka, Rajasthan and Gujarat. In Punjab, high case fatality rate needs to be improved by early identification of those needing hospitalisation," he said.

Vardhan said irresponsible statements by some state functionaries were spreading panic among the people.

Bengaluru to be in focus as BSY interacts with PM today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH 4,991 fresh Covid-19 cases reported on Wednesday alone, Bengaluru will be the focal point of discussion for Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa on Thursday when he participates in a video conference with Prime Minister Narendra Modi along with chief ministers of other states.

Bengaluru is among the top 10 cities contributing to the surge in Covid-19 cases in the country as the second wave of infections have returned stronger. With the Union Government allowing vaccination centres to be set up at work places as well, Karnataka is expected to push for a more steady supply of vaccines to ensure that shortage does hamper the vaccination drive.

As on Wednesday, the state had completed inoculating 3,50,404 health care workers, 94,748 front line workers, 10,227 citizens in the 45-59 age group and 37,278 citizens aged over 60 with the second dose of the vaccines.

Dovish RBI opts for pause on rates, flags inflation risk

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Wednesday kept interest rates unchanged to support growth but remained cautious amid risks to the economy arising from the second wave of Covid infections and high inflation.

Announcing the decision to keep the policy rate at 4%, RBI governor Shaktikanta Das said the central bank will do "whatever it takes" to support economic recovery.

The RBI also retained its FY22 GDP growth forecast of 10.5% with the warning that re-imposition of lockdown in some states could hurt the economy.

"The recent surge in infections has imparted greater uncertainty to the outlook," Das said. "Localised and regional lockdowns could dampen the recent improvement in demand conditions and delay the return of normalcy," he added.

Inflation remained a concern, as RBI raised its inflation forecast for Q2 and Q3 by 0.2% and 0.1% to 5.2% and 4.4%, respectively. With this, RBI is projecting inflation at 5% in FY22.

The RBI also committed to buy government bonds worth ₹1 lakh crore under 'the secondary market government securities acquisition programme' or G-Sap.

While the RBI stance was on expected lines, experts say the focus was on supporting growth. "The RBI policy was more dovish than expected with the central bank recognising the risks associated with the rising infection cases in the county and continuing its support for growth. Fears of any premature tightening either through rates or liquidity management by some sections of the market have been put to rest by RBI's dovish tone," said Abheek Barua, chief economist, HDFC Bank.

In another development, RBI has proposed to allow cash withdrawals from digital wallets such as Paytm and prepaid cards issued by non-bank entities. P15

Private buses and autorickshaws pick up commuters from inside Majestic bus stand during the transport employees' strike on Wednesday | VINOD KUMAR T

Bus services hit, govt warns of tough measures

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

BUS services were affected in many parts of the state as drivers and conductors of the four road transport corporations began their indefinite strike over wage-related issues on Wednesday. Passengers travelling to and from distant areas and office-goers were the most affected.

Hundreds of commuters were left stranded at bus stations across the city, with BMTC buses staying off the roads. While some waited long hours at bus stations for privates buses, others looked for alternative arrangements. Some even opted to work from home or postpone their travel. Many made a beeline to Namma Metro stations to reach their destinations even as bus stations and terminals wore a deserted look.

To ensure that commuters do not suffer further, the State Government is planning to invoke the Essential Services Maintenance Act (ESMA), Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa declared in Belagavi on Wednesday. P4

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi in West Bengal? Maybe in Naxalbari

Ear to the Ground WEST BENGAL

SANTWANA BHATTACHARYA

THE game is going into the bloody slog overs in Bengal, but where is Rahul Gandhi? Call it a secondary mystery wrapped inside a nail-biting political thriller. It's a missing piece of jigsaw no one seems to have much noticed—or considered—despite it having the potential to decide a cliffhanger.

Now, it's quite natural that when it comes to Bengal—the mother, or perhaps the big sister of all battles—attention has tended to be concentrated upon the primary antagonists. Like a convex lens focusing sunlight, the pitched battle of attrition between the Trinamool and the BJP has been setting off a lot of fires in the media.

Who has time, then, to think about the Congress—a dwindling presence here, atrophying even in its old pockets of influence? If at all it gets talked about, it's because of the curious alliance it has helped put together, the Sanjukta Morcha, which has it partnering with the Left and a party floated by an Islamic cleric.

The Morcha is in play in 294 seats, but it may be tough going for them. The Congress is fighting some 92 of those, but even by its own internal estimations, the party stands a good chance of halving its tally in the state Assembly from 44 to 22. Others say even that's optimistic, and reckon the Morcha's overall pickings would be between 25 and 60 when play ends.

But 92 seats are not piffling stakes, so the question remains: Where is Rahul? Or Priyanka Gandhi, for that matter? Even the other usual national faces of the Congress have all been conspicuous by their absence. What's up?

The standard reading is Bengal offers such a dismal picture that they are giving it a wide berth, and focused on Assam and Kerala, where they are truly in the game.

But there's also a sense that the Congress central command is uncomfortable campaigning against Mamata Banerjee. Many of the party's UPA allies—the NCP, RJD and DMK—are outright supporting Mamata as the lone woman soldier holding out against a rampaging BJP. Even the Samajwadi Party, though not in the UPA, sent Jaya Bachchan to the battlefield—she held a press meet backing Mamata, and letting on that her party leader Akhilesh Yadav had clearly taken the West Bengal CM as a valuable anti-BJP force.

GST is not citizen-friendly: Apex court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

GOODS and Services Tax (GST) is not at all citizen-friendly, according to the Supreme Court. The observation came when a bench headed by Justice D Y Chandrachud was hearing a plea against the government's powers of provisional attachment under the Himachal Pradesh GST Act.

While reserving the order, the bench criticised the manner in which the indirect tax law was being enforced by authorities saying taxmen can't assume that all businesses are fraudulent.

"Parliament had aimed to give the GST a citizen-friendly tax structure. But, the purpose of the Act is lost by the manner of enforcement in our country," it said on Tuesday.

The plea was filed by Radha Krishna Industries, alleging attachment of property under Section 83 of the Act is 'draconian'.

A farmer from Devikunte village taking his cattle out to graze, towards Karnataka's border with Andhra Pradesh | EXPRESS

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

FOR farmers of Devikunte in Chikkaballapur district, it's an arduous trek every day across the border into Andhra Pradesh in search of green patches for the cattle ever since a forest fire burnt the pastures near their village. That's just one part of their problem. After crossing over, they are faced with resistance from locals there.

Devikunte is among the remote villages of Bagepalli taluk on the Karnataka-Andhra border. Cattle from not just here, but also surrounding villages like Picchavaara, Jillalapalli, Honnampalli and Madapalli were usually brought to the grazing ground. P7

Check to ensure Covid norms are implemented: HC

'Orders should be issued defining specific dimension of open and closed places/halls'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday directed the State Government and Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike to ensure that Covid-19 norms are strictly followed by citizens by conducting regular inspections. It also said that orders should be immediately issued defining the specific dimension of open and closed places/halls in which 500 and 200 persons, respectively, are permitted to attend functions. Otherwise, the purpose of the restrictions will not be served as functions even in small open places can be attended by 200 persons, the court observed.

The court has also directed the government to place on record copies of the orders issued modifying the earlier orders permitting 100 per cent seating capacity in movie halls and 50 per cent capacity in gyms.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Aravind Kumar passed the order after the counsel dealing with a batch of PILs regarding Covid-19 expressed concern over flouting of norms related to maintaining social distancing in bar and restaurants, absence of specific dimensions of open and closed halls, diluting norms for cinema halls and gyms and instances of large number of residents of apartments testing positive on account of holding functions.

IN THE HC

There are several orders passed by the court dealing with issues concerning the spread of Covid-19. The government on Wednesday placed on record the order dated April 2, passed by the Chief Secretary, who is chairperson of State Executive Committee under the Disaster Management Act, and the order dated March 24, the court said, while referring to the concern expressed by the applicants about effective implementation of those orders.

On concerns about the availability of beds in hospitals, the court said that there are several directions issued by it to ensure availability of beds.

Reach-5 line closer to completion

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE final segment of the viaduct, the base on which rails are laid for running trains, has been completed on the section from Beratena Agrahara station to Bommanahalli Metro station on Tuesday. This marks a milestone on this stretch of the RV Road-Bommanahalli Line.

The Reach-5 Line comprises three packages — Bommasandra to Beratena Agrahara station for 6.4 km, Beratena Agrahara to Bommanahalli for 6.38 km and Bommanahalli/Roopen Agrahara to RV Road station for 5.72 km.

Speaking to TNIE, a senior Metro official said, "By lifting the last segment at pillars 260-261 on package two, BMRCL has crossed the final milestone of the viaduct."

On the challenges involved in completing the viaduct, an engineer said, "We had to relocate the Lord Hanuman temple in Garvebhavipalya. The other big challenge was that the water pipes laid by BWSSB had to be shifted as the foundation stone of the viaduct went deep below the ground."

A 22m-long portion on this stretch is stuck in litigation with a private individual due to compensation issues. "It figures in the service road that will run near the line. The hearing is slated on Thursday," an official said.

Referring to the two other packages, the engineer said that the viaduct in the first package from Bommasandra required 2,000 sqmt stuck in litigation with NICE Infrastructure Limed. "The third package along the RV Road stretch has no land issues. Over 60 per cent of the stretch has been completed," he said.

All the three packages have a deadline of January 2022. "Two of the packages are ahead of the deadline and the third will catch up," he added.

New board exam SOP soon: Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Vijayapura

"STUDENTS of Classes 10 and 12, who appeared for board examinations last year, are also considered as corona warriors," said Minister for Primary and Secondary Education S Suresh Kumar.

At a meeting to review preparations for SSLC and PU board examinations in Bagalkot, Chikkodi and Vijayapura at ZP Bhavan on Wednesday, the minister spoke about students who secured high marks despite facing financial difficulties last year.

"The government will release a new Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) for the smooth conduct of the board exams, where PUC exams will start on May 24 and SSLC on June 21. Even the Union Public Service Commission had 'borrowed' our SOP to conduct civil service examinations," he said, thanking all the officials, teachers and non-teaching staff for the success.

No decision yet on exams till Class 9

Kumar urged parents not to believe in rumours about the cancellation of examinations for Class 1 to 9. "The government is yet to decide whether to conduct the exams or not. I have already conducted a meeting with stakeholders and after discussing with higher authorities, a final call will be taken soon," he said.

When questioned about student dropouts, the minister said, "The government will work out a strategy to bring back such students to the mainstream."

Tariff revision: Irked wildlife enthusiasts to boycott safaris

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

WILDLIFE enthusiasts and photographers have decided to boycott safaris in the state after the Karnataka Forest Department revised tariffs in all national parks and wildlife sanctuaries. They also submitted a memorandum to the principal chief conservator of forests, wildlife, and to the chief conservator of forests, Mysuru, seeking a reduction in tariffs. Members of Karnataka Photographers United Movement have launched an online petition, urging the state government to step in. Rahul Taranath, a wildlife enthusiast, said when they met the PCCF on Monday, the officials said the tariff was hiked as the crowds to these places had increased. Many regular visitors are finding it difficult to go due to the revised tariffs. "Now, it costs Rs 600 for the safari and Rs 1,500 for the camera lens. Camera charges should be a part of the safari," he said.

Amal George, a wildlife photographer said, "Over 5,000 people have already signed the petition online. Nowhere in India are safaris and camera charges separate." Citing the example of Pench National Park in Madhya Pradesh, he said, "A person would spend Rs 15,000 for two nights and four safaris. But in Kabini, a person people can stay only for a night and two safaris at that rate." He said they will meet Forest Minister Arvind Limbavali and submit a memorandum, asking him to look into the issue.

Photographers and wildlife enthusiasts said the rates should not be doubled, making recreational activities out of bounds for common people. They said that in today's era, everyone has a camera and everyone visits the forest to take the best pictures. "The camera charges would only deter people from going and this will harm conservation efforts too," they said.

APCCF Wildlife Subhash Malkhade said, "Photographers and other wildlife enthusiasts met the PCCF, wildlife, and submitted a memorandum. The PCCF has assured them that he will look into the issue. The decision was taken after discussing the same with field staffers. We will take a decision on changing the tariffs after discussing with them as well."

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

08th April: The other day I had another argument with someone who wanted to know how planets could influence events in our lives, given that they are so far away. We have a number of answers to this question, but one is that when we look at the vast size of the entire universe the planets are really quite close!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Watchout at work. Venus and Uranus are linked in mysterious ways, revealing you are walking an emotional tightrope. Avoid giving offence and rising to provocation, including at home and family matters. Chances of a surprise are not as great as they were.

TAURUS (Apr. 21- May 21)
The most important patterns in your chart have a great deal to do with overseas and long-term influences. It may well be, for example, that to achieve romantic goals, it is necessary to visit foreign parts. Anyway, you require adventure to lift your emotional life.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Everything that took place over the past few days, especially in the personal sphere, will continue to affect you over the next few months. It's therefore important to understand the causes for both your successes and failures. That done, you'll do it better next time!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The power to lighten your emotional burdens is growing, but whether you are prepared to take the final step is another matter. It is never easy to make a break with the past, even with old habits, but that is what you must now do. All it takes is courage!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Always remember that you hold many of the trump cards. The fact is that you depend on others for your security, but they are also relying on you to satisfy their needs. In any personal tiff, your negotiating position is therefore strong, and will remain so.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
This is no time to be a shrinking violet. Two powerful patterns in your chart urge you to let go. One lends added force to your ideas and intellect, another raises the emotional temperature, so go for it! You never know - you might just amaze yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Strange and unsettling alignments emerge from the region of your solar chart denoting home and family. This is a moment for giving in to emotional undercurrents. But a more cautious note should be sounded by the risks of hasty and ill-judged actions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There is much to be said about intimate matters, not all of it clear or rational. In fact this is a suitable moment to chuck logic out of the window and accept that the only thing which makes much sense is how you feel. Folk who stick to the facts could be missing the point.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The spotlight is on money and relationships, always an explosive combination. Others will be coming to you with wonderful ideas for making a quick buck and grabbing a bargain, but do they really know what they're talking about? Probably not!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Venus, planet of love, extends the hand of friendship to Uranus, ruler of sudden and dramatic change. The most important qualities in your love life will be freedom, independence, change, variety & experimentation! That sounds like a recipe for success!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
People around you may be confused. And you are certainly perplexed. The problem seems to be that your feelings are moving very fast, and that you are having difficulty in keeping up. All you need is more time and more space. This is surely not too much to ask!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Your social stars are looking quite exceptionally dramatic. You also seem to be impatient, and friends who fail to please could find themselves gently excluded from your charmed circle. You might not say anything, but your deeds will speak volumes.

As cases gallop, beds fill up fast, only 571 available

City patients opt for govt hospitals, CCCs; pvt hosps yet to allot beds

RANJANI MADHAVAN
@Bengaluru

AS of 5.30pm on April 7, only 571 government quota Covid-19 beds were available in government and private medical colleges, government and private hospitals, and government Covid Care Centres (CCC) in Bengaluru -- a sign that beds are fast filling up. The city had 32,605 active cases as of Tuesday.

Of the 2,300 allocated beds, 1,729 are occupied, the real-time bed management portal made public by BBMP shows.

The highest Covid patient burden is on government hospitals, where 717 of 862 beds are occupied. This is followed by government CCCs, where 377 of 578 beds are full. As per the portal, 14 government hospitals and two government CCCs (Haj Bhavan and HAL) have the most number of positive patients. All 325 beds in government medical colleges are full.

With private hospitals yet to open up and allocate 50 per cent of their beds for Covid patients referred under the government quota, the entire burden is on government facilities now, explained Dr H D R Radhakrishna, medical superintendent, CV Raman General Hospital. At this hospital, 148 of 151 beds are occupied.

"This scenario is expected. Once the 500 to 1,000 bedded private medical colleges and private hospitals open up for corona patients, more beds will be available on the portal. At present, people are preferring government hospitals over government CCCs," Dr Radharkishna explained.

Of 445 beds in private medical colleges under the government quota, 300 are filled, and of 90 government quota beds in private hospitals, 10 are filled.

At Ramaiah Medical College, 31 of 35 government quota beds are occupied. Dr Harish K, associate dean, Ramaiah Medical College, said that beds are filling up fast and they have to operate non-Covid services, alongside maintaining beds for government and private quota Covid patients.

"We have 80 Covid beds. We will increase the number of beds under government quota and reduce the number for private Covid patients," Dr Harish said.

The portal mentions 3,267 beds under private quota, 212 private CCCs and 19,832 people under home isolation, though the breakup is not given.

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Wednesday said that before the pandemic hit, there were 5,000-6,000 oxygenated beds in government hospitals. "In just 10 months, the number has increased by six times to about 35,000 oxygenated beds today," Sudhakar said.

Curtains go up on vaccination in workplaces; BBMP eyes apartments

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the Union Government order, Karnataka Health and Medical Education Minister tweeted that starting April 11, Covid-19 vaccinations will be carried out in all private and government workplaces which have at least 100 eligible beneficiaries above 45 years of age.

The minister's tweet followed an earlier one which pointed at Karnataka crossing a total of 50 lakh vaccinations across the state.

The Centre's decision is expected to accelerate the vaccination drive and ensure better coverage, Sudhakar said. Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa has also welcomed the move.

Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said although the Centre's approval on vaccinating people at workplaces came on Wednesday, no official proposals were made by the industrial units, MNCs or other large commercial hubs, though they had been in talks with private hospitals and had expressed the same to the BBMP.

The BBMP will now look at the fine print for residential units too. Gupta said that some hospitals had already tied up with apartment complexes, but BBMP has not made any tie-ups so far. Though he said that work on creating such centres will start from Thursday, calling them as sub-centres will still have to be looked into. However, work on collaboration for apartments with private hospitals had started after a meeting with RWAs held last week.

Sudhakar had tweeted, "As of 2 pm on Wednesday, 45,13,857 people have received the first dose of the vaccine and 5,02,838 people have received both doses of vaccine. Vaccines are being distributed in 6,173 sites across the state including 5,564 government and 609 private centres."

Minister pledges to donate eyes

On the occasion of World Health Day on Wednesday, Karnataka Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar pledged to donate his eyes and spread the message of its importance. A walkathon was organised by Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences in front of Vidhana Soudha on the occasion. Minto Eye Hospital conducted a programme to spread awareness on the importance of eye donation. Hospital director Dr Sujatha Rathod handed over a certificate to the minister

Will take steps to up testing: Sudhakar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister B S Yediyurappa and Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar held a meeting with the district administrations of Bidar, Kalaburagi, Tumakuru, Chikkamagaluru, Dakshina Kannada, Udupi, Hassan, Mandya, Mysuru and Chitradurga via video-conference (VC) on Wednesday, to review the Covid-19 situation there.

Reflecting that the positivity rate has been increasing since the last few weeks, Dr Sudhakar said, "In some places, testing has been reduced. We will take measures to increase testing where positivity is high. Identifying Severe Acute Respiratory Infection and Influenza-Like Illness cases has also been discussed."

As per the positivity rate average of the last 10 days (March 28 to April 6), it was stated that the positivity rate in the state stands at 5.04 per cent, while Bidar (7.76 per cent), Kalaburagi (6.83 per cent) and Tumakuru (6.75 per cent) have a higher positivity rate than the state's average.

Directions given by the Union Health Minister in Tuesday's VC were conveyed to the district administrations. "The government is taking all necessary measures. People have to cooperate by exercising self-discipline," he added.

"Although we have ramped up infrastructure over the last one year to treat Covid patients, we must ensure that more people don't end up needing ICUs and ventilators," said Dr Sudhakar, who is to meet senior officials of BBMP, Bengaluru Urban and Rural districts on Thursday.

STATE HELPLESS TO MEET STRIKERS' DEMANDS

- Staff want salary on par with 6th Pay Commission recommendations
- This will put additional burden of Rs 3,000 crore on state exchequer

Majestic Bus Stand in Bengaluru falls silent without the usual hustle and bustle following the indefinite strike on Wednesday | MEGHANA SASTRY

The striking employees must realise that their absence from work will have adverse effects in the coming days. All transport corporations will collapse due to financial losses

Laxman Savadi, Transport Minister

Why is the government, which has given hundreds of crores to many caste-based boards, now talking about a financial crisis?

Kodihalli Chandrashekar, honorary prez, K'taka State Road Transport Employees League

People rush to board a private bus in Bengaluru on Wednesday | VINOD KUMAR T

RAMU PATIL @Bengaluru

GIVEN its current financial situation, the state government seems to be in a helpless position to consider the demand of transport employees that their salary be brought on par with the Sixth Pay Commission recommendations, which will mean a salary hike of around 20 per cent — an additional burden of around Rs 3,000 crore in the next three years.

Even without any revision, the government requires Rs 5,375 crore this year to pay salaries of employees of four corporations, who are on an indefinite strike from Wednesday.

The government has offered to increase their salary by 8 per cent as an interim measure and has written to the Election Commission seeking its clearance to implement it considering that the election code of conduct is in place for the bypolls.

As per the estimated expenditure worked out by the government, an 8 per cent hike will result in an additional burden of Rs 271.23 crore and bring the total outgo to Rs 5,646 crore. And by 2023 (four years from 2020 to 2023), this will be an additional expenditure of Rs 1,137 crore with the total salary bill going up to Rs 23,601 crore.

If the government considers the agitators' demand, it will need an additional Rs 645 crore, and if the hike is with revenue incentives, it will require Rs 815 crore. This will mean an additional expenditure of Rs 3,500 crore (from 2020 to 2023) if the hike is with revenue incentives, and Rs 2,822 crore without revenue incentive.

Sources said that given the current financial position, it will be difficult for the government to consider such a demand. The state also needs to have clarity on mobilizing additional resources as corporations continue to incur losses. Besides, the current revenues are not sufficient to support salary and fuel expenses.

While rejecting the employees' demand and warning them of stern action, Chief Secretary P Ravi Kumar had on Tuesday stated that corporations were incurring a loss of Rs 4 crore a day, but despite that, the government had ensured payment of their salaries right through the lockdown last year.

However, employees rejected the government's argument. "Why is the government, which has given hundreds of crores to many caste-based boards, now talking about a financial crisis?" said Kodihalli Chandrashekar, who is among those leading the agitation.

According to him, the funds mentioned by the government is not too much when it comes to correcting injustice for 1.30 lakh employees of the corporations. Although reiterating that they will continue the strike till their demands are met, Chandrashekar said they are open to discussions with the state government.

Stones thrown at bus

A case has been registered at Attibele police station after protestors pelted a KSRTC bus with stones.

Don't fleece passengers, CM warns pvt operators

THE government had fulfilled eight of the nine demands made by transport employees' unions and it is unfair of them to not relent, the CM said.

"The agitation of the employees has no logical reason. We will wait for two more days and then take all necessary action against them," the chief minister said. The CM also warned private transporters of stern action if they are found demanding excess fare from passengers.

In several cities, including Bengaluru, bus services were thrown out of gear from Tuesday afternoon itself. The Transport Department had deployed over 1,000 maxi-cabs and 1,500 private buses across the state. The transport unions had announced the indefinite strike as the government failed to accede to their demand of fixing wages on par with the 6th Pay Commission recommendations.

To mitigate inconvenience to passengers in the coming days, the KSRTC officials have held talks with their counterparts in Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh and Telangana and they have agreed to ply 300 inter-state buses from each state. "They have also agreed to stretch their normal route and cover other districts. For example, a bus coming to Bengaluru will run up to Mysuru. They have also agreed to increase the fleet to 500 buses," an official said.

"On Wednesday, 300 buses from Tamil Nadu, 125 from Andhra Pradesh, 20 from Telangana and 25 from Kerala operated. Five KSRTC buses to Tirupati, Secunderabad, Vijayawada, and Hyderabad left Bengaluru at 8pm," a KSRTC official said.

"Private bus operators have also agreed to chip in. The government has also relaxed provisions of the Motor Vehicles Act as regards permits and licence," he said.

According to Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) officials, 145 buses operated despite the strike and 1,124 private buses and about 2,000 maxi-cabs operated in the city. Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) officials said 264 buses and 3,152 private buses operated services. Similarly, 1,645 private buses operated for NWKRTC and NEKRTC operated 3,234 schedules.

According to an official release, KSRTC suffered Rs 7 crore loss, BMTC Rs 3 crore, NWKRTC Rs 3.5 crore and NEKRTC Rs 3.5 crores on Wednesday alone. Stray incidents of damage to buses were reported in Attibele and Subramanya police station limits and FIRs were registered.

Meanwhile, a BMTC circular stated that if the staffers do not return to work, disciplinary action wil be taken against them.

DyCM says transport dept may not be able to pay salaries

Belagavi: In the wake of the strike by transport corporations, Deputy Chief Minister and Transport Minister Laxman Savadi on Wednesday warned the agitating employees that the state government will not be able to pay their salaries, including for the coming month, as their protest has brought revenue generation to a grinding halt. Speaking to media persons in Bidar, Savadi said that the ongoing agitation was launched even though his department was prepared to consider all the protestors' demands. "We are ready to pay more salaries to them, but they should first join duty and hold talks with us instead of resorting to agitations," he added. Already, revenue generation of transport corporations in the state had dipped owing to various reasons. And the agitation launched under such a crisis situation will further aggravate the problems, he said. ENS

Train passengers left high and dry

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE bus strike caught many inter-state rail travellers, who landed in Bengaluru on Wednesday, unawares. Despite traffic cops being put on duty to regulate any kind of fleecing, the acute demand for app-based cabs and two-wheeler hire services forced many to wait for hours to go home, or come early, and wait at the station.

At Krantivira Sangolli railway station, Saraswathi, a Delhi resident, had waited for more than five hours after reaching here before she got a cab to go home. "My train reached the station at 12.45 pm and a few cops said that buses were not available. After 2 pm, I realised they would not run and decided to take an auto. But they were demanding between Rs 900 and Rs 1,500." Saraswathi finally left the station at 6.15 pm in an Ola cab.

Jyothi Raju, her toddler and husband, reached the KSR station at noon despite their train to Chalakere scheduled for a 11 pm departure. "We knew about the bus strike and so decided to reach the station very early," she said.

Meanwhile, with ridership on the Volvo buses to and from airport already seeing a huge dip, many flyers choose to use cabs or private vehicles. A BMTC official said, "We operated six private buses today to and from the airport, three regular buses and three mini-buses (almost like tempo travellers). Cabs were allowed to operate till the bus stands at both KIA and Kempegowda bus stands. There was an average ridership of 30 passengers on each regular bus."

At Metro stations, despite queues spilling onto the streets, there appears to be no major shift in ridership. Executive Director (Operations) A S Shankar said, "During the first half of our operations, we saw some increase in numbers. However, during the day the ridership was similar to those on other days."

Eshwarappa says wanted Guv to clarify on biz rules

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA'S RDPR Minister and former DyCM K S Eshwarappa, who had courted controversy last week by writing to Governor Vajubhai Vala against Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, said on Wednesday that he had only written to the governor to clarify the issue of transaction of business rules, and not to complain against Yediyurappa, as was reported in the media.

Interestingly, Eshwarappa, whose five-page letter to Governor Vala had hit the headlines, causing a huge controversy a week ago, issued a clarification seven days later. At a press conference, he claimed that he went to the governor only to seek clarification from him regarding transaction of business. He said the governor is knowledgable about these issues, having served as Gujarat finance minister and presented 18 budgets. Asked about his letter on the same issue to party general secretary CT Ravi, he again claimed that he was not complaining against the chief minister.

During the press meet, Eshwarappa held up a newspaper carrying a report on Opposition leader Siddaramaiah strongly criticising him. He demanded that Siddaramaiah — with whom he shares a cat-and-mouse relationship — too should resign.

He said Siddaramaiah had recently made a statement that officials are ignoring Eshwarappa and that he should not remain in power any longer, and demanded that Siddaramaiah resign as opposition leader.

On Siddaramaiah's statement that Eshwarappa and Basangouda Patil Yatnal were challenging Yediyurappa based on BJP National General Secretary (Org) BL Santosh's instigation, he said Siddaramaiah should receive a Padma Shri for making up stories. He said Yatnal should not make statements against Yediyurappa and Vijayendra in public, and instead, address issues within the party forum. He refused to answer questions on his relationship with Yediyurappa.

Arun Singh on K'taka tour, may take up KSE issue

ENS @ Bengaluru

FOR the first time after RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa's letter fiasco, BJP National General Secretary and Karnataka incharge Arun Singh will visit Karnataka on Thursday. The senior leader is on a three-day tour, and will campaign in the poll-bound assembly seats of Maski and Basavakalyan, and parliamentary seat of Belagavi.

While the party maintains that Arun Singh's visit will only revolve around the upcoming bypolls, Eshwarappa's letter and its fallout are expected to be raked up behind closed doors. Singh has already insisted that all discussions about the letter will take place only post elections.

Singh will land in Bengaluru on Thursday afternoon and head to Mangaluru to participate in a personal event organised by BJP State President Nalin Kumar Kateel. For the next three days, Singh is expected to make the rounds of Belagavi, Maski and Basavakalyan to participate in the party's campaign and supervise preparedness.

Rally behind Mangala, CM tells voters

ENS @ Belagavi

TERMING as "revolutionary" the rail projects launched by former Union Minister of State for Railways Suresh Angadi, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa said he had actually assumed that the Congress would not field a candidate against late Angadi's wife Mangala, who is in the fray for Belagavi Lok Sabha bypoll.

The CM appealed to the people to vote Mangala to victory by a record number of votes.

Criticising Congress rule at the Centre, Yediyurappa said the Congress had ruined the nation with its misrule. He highlighted some major policies and projects initiated by PM Narendra Modi, who had vowed to have a 'Congress-mukt' nation.

The CM said he would personally take an initiative for the overall development of Belagavi district, if Mangala Angadi won by a huge margin.

CM to call all-party meet on Covid

Bengaluru: Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa is expected to call an all-party meet to discuss the increasing number of Covid cases in the state and the measures taken by the government, said Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar. Karnataka may push for steady supply of vaccines

IN his previous interaction with the Prime Minister in March, Chief Minister Yediyurappa had asked for vaccines to be opened up for all adults without age restrictions. With Union Health Minister Dr Harsh Vardhan on Wednesday insisting that the age limit will extend until limitations on production capacity exists, Karnataka is expected to tread carefully on the issue, but push for a steady supply of vaccines as a priority.

Following the meeting on Thursday, additional restrictions, especially in Bengaluru, are expected, given the spike in cases. Karnataka, unlike many other states, has already imposed restrictions in districts that are witnessing a sharp upward swing of cases.

600+ JSS tech grads get plum jobs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

THE raging pandemic which resulted in an economic downturn, appears to have had no impact on campus recruitment of the JSS Science and Technology University (JSSSTU), where over 600 students received offer letters with an average package of ₹10.5 lakh per annum.

Vice-chancellor of JSSSTU Prof Siddaramaiah told reporters on Wednesday that a total of 150 companies participated in the campus recruitment, and over 600 students of the varsity had landed jobs.

"Most of the students who were eligible have been recruited, and received offer letters. The pandemic had no impact on the placement process either. Compared to the previous year, the average salary of a recruited student is ₹10.5 lakh, while it was ₹8 lakh per annum in the last academic year. Interestingly, over 19 students got a salary package of ₹27 lakh per annum," he said.

"Even BE students from the polymer science branch have been recruited and there is 100 per cent placement for this branch," he added.

Meanwhile, the third convocation of JSSSTU will be held in the city on Friday where over 873 graduates, 214 M. Tech, 67 MCA, 26 M.Sc and 183 MBA students will receive degrees. Prof Siddaramaiah said keeping in mind the Covid-19 situation, only meritorious students and rank holders have been asked to attend the convocation while the rest will attend the event virtually.

Chairman of National Board of Accreditation Prof K K Agarwal, Suttur Mutt seer Shivarathri Deshikendra Swami and others will preside over the function.

Feeling slighted, woman strangles 3-year-old daughter, files missing case; Confesses to police

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A woman, upset with her three-year-old daughter's preference for her father, allegedly killed her in Annapoorneshwari Nagar police station limits. Sudha was angry that little Vinutha supported her father Eranna, and had even insulted her in front of other people. The family lived in Mallathahalli, near Jnanabharathi.

Police said Eranna worked from 6am to 8pm, and would come home for breakfast and lunch. At lunch time on Tuesday, Vinutha was watching television, when Eranna said he wanted to watch TV. But Sudha scolded him, saying he watched only news channels and asked him not to come home if he wanted to watch news. Vinutha supported her father and reportedly asked her mother why she was "acting like mental" and to allow her father to watch TV. This enraged Sudha.

When Eranna returned home around 8pm, he found the house locked, and called Sudha. She told him she had taken Vinutha out to eat gobi manchurian, but while she was paying the bill, the girl had gone missing. Eranna rushed to the place with a friend and started searching for his daughter. He couldn't contact Sudha, who had switched off her phone from 8.15pm to 9.30pm. When she switched on her phone again, Eranna got in touch with her and both went to Jnanabharathi police station and filed a missing case, police said.

"On Wednesday morning, a girl's body was found at an under-construction site near Deepa Complex in Annapoorneshwari Nagar police limits. The girl's parents were summoned and they identified her as Vinutha. Sudha kept claiming that she had gone missing after having gobi manchurian. But investigations revealed that they had not visited the eatery which Sudha claimed they had gone to. Sudha was picked up for questioning and she confessed to having strangled her daughter," police added.

Sudha admitted that Vinutha liked and favoured her father, and gave him updates about her mother, what she did at home and who visited her when Eranna was at work. "The girl also spoke to her mother in an insulting manner in front of others, and this enraged Sudha, who decided to kill her. We have seized the dupatta she used to strangle the girl," police said.

Don't cut trees on campus: HC to varsities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday restrained the Inter University Centre for Yogic Sciences (IUCYS) and Central University of Karnataka (CU-K) from cutting trees and levelling land which is part of a Bio-Park on Bangalore University campus.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Suraj Govindaraj passed the order after a petitioner brought the attention of the court to photographs showing the destruction of trees and levelling of land.

The petitioner, city-based advocate Dr K B Vijayakumar, contended that BU, the State government and IUCYS are party to the destruction of greenery and habitat of various species of birds and trees etc. The allottees, IUCYS and CU-K, had not taken permission from any authority for cutting trees and shrubs, and clearing vegetation, he alleged.

The petitioner sought directions to the Chief Secretary and Vice-Chancellor of BU to cancel all allotment of land made to IUCYS and CU-K within BU, and direct the university to explore alternative land outside the precincts of the Bio-Park, and re-allocate it with approval from the state government. He also requested the court to issue directions to declare the Bio-Park as deemed forest land.

CBI COURT CONVICTS MAN IN 19-YR-OLD BANK FRAUD CASE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DISPENSING justice can sometimes take a lifetime. The designated CBI court in Bengaluru has convicted an individual after 19 years in a bank fraud case. The pace of the trial was such that one of the two main accused died in the interim period.

One Shyam M Ganglani was sentenced to five years imprisonment with fine of Rs 4 lakh in the bank fraud case which the CBI had registered against the then chief manager, Canara Bank, Basavanagudi branch, and others on July 31, 2002 on a complaint from the bank. The former passed away during the trial.

"The case involved Ganglani and three other accused for cheating Canara Bank, Basavanagudi branch, in the matter of closing some Foreign Currency Non-Resident (FCNR) deposits by creating forged applications and thereby causing loss of around Rs.1.34 crore to the bank," the CBI has stated. The FCNR deposits are designed to provide NRIs with an option to park their foreign earnings in Indian banks without converting their savings into Indian Rupee. The FCNR deposits can be made in foreign currency. The CBI had filed a charge sheet against the four accused, including the then chief manager of the bank, and some others on June 3, 2003. But the trial in the case lasted almost two decades. The trial court has convicted the two accused and acquitted two others. The case against the then chief manager, Canara Bank, was abated as he had expired, the central anti-corruption agency has stated.

Centre yet to appoint director for NIMHANS

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE Centre is yet to appoint a new Director of the National Institute of Mental Health & Neuro Sciences (NIMHANS) even as the term of senior professor of Epidemiology and in-charge director, Dr G Gururaj, is coming to an end on April 12, when he will attain the age of 65 years.

The appointment of the Head of Neurology, All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), New Delhi, and the Director-designate Prof M V Padma Srivastava did not come through, though the reasons are yet not known. She was to take charge as NIMHANS Director on February 1 from Dr Gururaj.

The Director of NIMHANS is appointed for a period of five years by the Appointments Committee of the Cabinet (ACC) on the recommendations made by the search committee, which are vetted by the Union Health Ministry. According to sources, the ACC is yet to meet and formally to announce the appointment of the new Director.

Going by the earlier track record, in the absence of a regular head, the senior-most faculty of NIMHANS will probably be made interim director of the apex mental health institution.

The Director's post became an open selection post after 2012

when NIMHANS was made an Institute of National Importance (INI) by Parliament. Eight candidates had applied for the Director's post after it had fallen vacant with the superannuation of the then director Gangadhar.

Those who had applied for the Director's post included the Head of Department (HoD), Psychiatry, Dr Prathima Murthy, former HoD, Psychiatry, Dr Prabha Chandra, former HoDs, Neurology, Dr Nalini and Dr Pramod Pal and former HoD, Neurosurgery, Dr Malla Bhaskara Rao.

Three candidates from outside NIMHANS, including Dr Padma, had applied for the top post after the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare had advertised for the post in March last year. The interview was conducted virtually by the Union Minister of Health Dr Harsh Vardhan and Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kannur

VIOLENCE erupted in Kannur on Wednesday after a Muslim League supporter was killed in an attack allegedly by CPM men at Pullukkara near Koothuparamba on Tuesday night, evoking scary memories from the not-so-distant past in the political history of the district.

The deceased is Mansoor, 21, son of Musthafa. A gang 20 CPM workers hacked and hurled bombs at Mansoor and his brother Muhasin --- also a League member. He too was seriously injured in the attack and was admitted to a private hospital in Kozhikode.

Chokli police have arrested CPM worker Shinos in connection with the murder.

On Wednesday, an agitated mob returning from the burial of Mansoor, vandalised CPM's branch and local committee offices and shops of party sympathisers in Periganthur town. CPM branch committee office at Keezhmadam too was attacked. The police, which found the mob too big to control, deployed more officers to bring the situation under control.

Mansoor was hacked around 8pm on Tuesday. The attackers barged into the house of Musthafa, dragged Muhasin out and started attacking him. As Mansoor tried to stop them, the assailants attacked him as well. To scare away the people who tried to intervene, the assailants hurled bombs. Autopsy report said Mansoor died due to bleeding from injuries caused by the bomb attack.

"The assailants dragged my son out of our house and killed him in front of my eyes," said Musthafa. "Our area is not known for political violence and besides the minor clash between the Muslim League and the CPM workers on the polling day, there were no such serious incidents to lead to such a cruel act," he said.

It is said the incident was the continuation of a minor clash between the workers of IUML and CPM in connection with polling. Terming the murder unfortunate, CPM district secretary M V Jayarajan said IUML workers triggered the incident as they beat up a polling agent and another CPM activist when they brought a senior citizen to a booth at Mukkile Peedika.

MLA defects to TRS, final nail in TDP's coffin

VV BALAKRISHNA @ Hyderabad

TELUGU Desam Party (TDP) has disappeared without a trace in Telangana, with its MLA from Aswaraopet (ST) segment Mecha Nageswara Rao joining TRS in the presence of TRS president and Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao at Pragathi Bhavan on Wednesday.

Based on a letter given by Nageswara Rao requesting the Speaker to merge the Telugu Desam Legislature Party (TDLP) and TRS Legislature Party (TRSLP) in the Assembly, the Legislature Secretariat issued a bulletin later in the evening. The TDP won two seats in the 2018 Assembly elections. However, Sathupalle (SC) MLA Sandra Venkata Veeraiah switched his loyalties to TRS in March, 2019. With the second MLA too joining the TRS, TDLP merged with TRSLP. Both the MLAs, elected on a TDP ticket, called on the Chief Minister along with Legislative Affairs Minister Vemula Prasanth Reddy. The TDP has no presence in the Legislative Council. With this, there is no representation to TDP in both Houses of the Legislature. It may be recalled here that the TDP was founded by NT Rama Rao in 1982 in Hyderabad. Ironically, the party disappeared where it was founded.

Meanwhile, Legislature Secretary V Narasimha Charyulu, in a bulletin, stated: "The two members of TDLP — Sandra Venkata Veeraiah and Mecha Nageswara Rao — in the Assembly, have submitted a letter to the Speaker stating that they have resolved to merge with TRSLP under Paragraph 4 of the Tenth Schedule of the Constitution of India, and requested to take appropriate action in the matter.

TTD to stop issuing sarva darshan token

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Tirumala

WITH the spike in Covid-19 cases across the country, the Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) has announced that it will suspend the issue of Sarva Darshan tokens at Tirupati from April 12 onwards. It said the Sarva Darshan tokens will be issued till April 11 evening only.

Chittoor district is one among the five covid hotspot districts in the State and it is witnessing a surge of covid cases in the past few days. On Wednesday, the district reported 296 new infections and the cumulative cases in the district are now more than 91,000. Of these 296 new infections, Tirupati Urban accounted for 120 and Tirupati Rural 48 cases.

Stating that Covid cases were on the spurt again in Tirupati city, the TTD said since thousands of devotees have to wait at Bhudevi complex and Vishnu Nivasam for time slot tokens, the prospect of Covid cases is likely to increase.

"With the spurt in Covid cases from the last few days, the Shirdi temple in Maharashtra has already suspended Darshan,'' the TTD said in a statement.

Covid victim's son beaten for not paying ₹5K fee

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Tumakuru

A 15-year-old boy, who lost his father to coronavirus, was allegedly thrashed by a school staffer for not paying the tuition fee of Rs 5,000. Mohemed Thala, Class 10 student of Vinayaka Saraswati Convent English Medium School on Ballari Road in Pavagada, went to the school to attend extra coaching classes when the incident happened.

"Secretary Ashwatha Narayana beat me up with a stick in front of students after Hindi teacher Ramakrishna Naik complained that I was not studious. They scold me daily for not paying the school fee. Due to the pressure of clearing school fee dues, I am unable to concentrate on my studies," the boy said. Thala lost his father Khaled Ahmed to Covid-19 whereas his mother Farzana Begum and older brother Mohemed Toufeeq recovered from the infection. The family had to spend ₹5.5 lakh on hospital expenses in October last year.

Meanwhile, Farzana, in a complaint to the block education officer, said that the secretary was annoyed as local leaders insisted that he waive the fee as the family was struggling after the death of the sole breadwinner.

Block resource coordinator Pavan Kumar, who visited the school on Wednesday, said that he spoke to the boy, the accused and other students. "I saw the wound and swelling on his hand and leg and will file a report to the BEO for further action," he added.

The secretary has apologised for his outburst.

Second wave hits Tiruppur's garment manufacturers hard

BINITA JAISWAL @ Chennai

ALREADY struggling to stay afloat due to the soaring prices of cotton yarn and a drop in export orders, Tiruppur's garment manufacturers are worried as the second wave of the pandemic could further worsen production at their units.

"Several top brands and showrooms have been shut in Europe due to the spread of Covid, so they can't even accommodate our old orders that have been exported. This has caused a reduction in the number of new orders," explained Tiruppur Exporters Association president Raja M Shanmugam. Besides, the high cost of yarn doesn't let them sell their products at the prices fixed by European traders, he added.

Known as the knitwear hub of the country, Tiruppur houses over 9,000 units and employs over 5 lakh labourers. Recently, a manufacturing unit in the region was sealed for two days after 31 workers tested positive for coronavirus.

Taking note of the situation, senior State government officials convened a virtual meeting with exporters and manufacturers of Tiruppur on Wednesday, and advised them to be proactive about restricting the spread of the virus. Besides enforcing strict adherence to SOPs, industry players were told to encourage eligible staff to get vaccinated.

"The cost of yarn has increased by almost 40 per cent in the last six months. So we can't deliver export and domestic orders, and are suffering huge losses. And now, the rise in the number of Covid-19 cases has added to our woes," said S Jayakumar, a manufacturing unit owner in Tiruppur.

He added that not many units have facilities to house workers, and hence, it is difficult to keep a tab on their health. "Many patients are asymptomatic, so it is difficult to trace them," said Vijay K, another trader.

TELANGANA CROSSES 10K-MARK IN ACTIVE CASES

Hyderabad: Telangana crossed the 10k mark in terms of active cases on Wednesday. The state now has 11,617 active cases of Covid-19, after 1914 new cases were detected on Tuesday. Just a day before, Monday's tests had revealed 1498 cases of the virus. The grip of the second wave has been quite intense in a short span of time as the active cases went from 1900 on March 1st to 11,617 on April 7th in a matter of just 38 days, indicating how sharp the rise has been of the second wave of the virus. Villagers seek fodder bank for their cattle

VILLAGERS pointed out that after the good rain this year, there was plenty of grass across the region. But as the harsh summer set in, the grass dried up. When there was a forest fire in early March, the grassy patches nearby also caught fire, and it was so intense that it took about four days to douse. Devikunte has some 86 houses and many of the family rear cattle. A few of them, with one or two heads of cattle, are managing by feeding them vegetable peels and other greens.

But for others like Gopal and his family, who own 30 cows, taking their cattle to Maddakavaipalli village in Andhra Pradesh every day is the only option. "Earlier, we used to leave around 11 am as the green patches was close by, and return home by 5 pm. But now we leave at 9 am and return home after 6.30 pm. It's about one-and-half to two hours of walking distance,'' Gopal said.

When they enter the Andhra side for grazing their cattle, locals there oppose it. The region is mostly dry land and there are hardly a few green patches. "When outsiders come to graze their cattle, the locals will obviously resist. But we request them and use the grazing grounds there,'' said another villager. They are now demanding a fodder bank to overcome the problem.

When the villagers raised the issue with the tahsildhar, he claimed that it does not come under the purview of the Revenue Department. Villagers even approached the Animal Husbandry Department, but the officials told them that they can help only if the cattle has some health issues. "We have nowhere to go. The nearest place is across the Andhra border," rued Gopal.

When contacted, Animal Husbandry Minister Prabhu Chavan said the government is committed to safeguarding the interests of farmer and promised to provide all facilities. "We will make arrangement to help the farmers," he said.

100 fall sick in AP, water contamination suspected

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kurnool

NEARLY 100 people from various villages in Gorakallu village of Panyam mandal and Nandyal and Adoni towns were hospitalised after consuming water, suspected to be contaminated, for the past two days. Medical camps were set up in the affected villages and water samples were collected from these places to ascertain whether contamination was behind people falling ill.

Though four people have died in these villages reportedly due to diarrhoea, officials said the deaths might not be due to water contamination. Three people from Gorakallu village and one from Adoni town have reportedly died due to consumption of contaminated water.

Basavaraju, a school teacher and resident of Adoni town, alleged that leakages in the drainage and drinking water pipelines, laid several years back, was leading to contamination of drinking water leading to people falling ill.

Adoni MLA Y Sai Prasad Reddy visited Arun Jyothinagara in the town, which was the worst affected locality, and asked the authorities to clean water tanks regularly.

Sriharikota island eroding, and Chennai's multiple ports are at fault

A damaged and partially-submerged bridge near Sriharikota | SHIBA PRASAD SAHU

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @ Sriharikota

SRIHARIKOTA island, India's spaceport and a critical facility, is eroding. This is partly because of the growing port infrastructure in Chennai, say coastal scientists conducting shoreline studies to understand the problem.

When contacted by Express, M Srinivasulu Reddy, controller at the Satish Dhawan Space Centre (SDSC-Shar), said, "Yes, we are experiencing a little erosion, especially on the northern strip of the island. We requested scientists from the Chennai-based National Centre for Coastal Research (NCCR) to undertake studies and recommend solutions. We are yet to receive a report from them."

As for how much area of the island, which is home to ISRO's rocket launch station, has been lost, Reddy said, "We don't know. NCCR scientists are studying it." But as per rough estimates, based on Google Earth images and visual evidence from the ground, at least 200-300 m of the beach has been eroded in the past decade.

Express has visited at least half a dozen villages abutting Sriharikota island on the north. Only the Pulicat Lake bar mouth separates these traditional fishing villages from the highly-guarded Sriharikota island. Fishermen in Navapetta, Monapalem, Kondurpalem, Srinivasapuram, Vadapalem, Manjakuppam and Govindapalipalem villages say that though there isn't a drastic change in the coastline, "beaches are eroding slowly and steadily".

ELECTION NARRATIVE IN KERALA SKIPPED REAL ISSUES

The enthusiastic voting in the Kerala Assembly election points to a closely fought contest. An election where all the main contenders fancy a chance is a good sign for a democracy. What's worrying, however, is the political discourse that the state witnessed in the run-up to the voting on April 6. The hostile exchanges, openly communal statements and deliberate attempts to mislead voters turned what should have been a free and fair democratic exercise into an eventful but troubling experience for most. While parties did their best, or worst, to factor communal sentiments into the electioneering, religious and community leaders who should have ideally stayed neutral had no hesitation in attempting to influence voters one way or the other. The fact that even a communist chief minister had to invoke God on the polling day indicates how the parties and groups were successful in building the narrative around matters of faith in this election.

Even as the parties relied on rhetoric and sensationalism in their bid to sway people's minds, many issues that deserved their attention were ignored. While the ruling LDF reminded people about the freebies it doled out and its rivals did everything to steer the discussion away from them by bringing up many scams along with the government's handling of the Sabarimala issue, there was little focus on issues like the state's dire financial situation, its infrastructural inadequacies, 'manmade' natural disasters, the mess in higher education, the high number of custodial deaths in the last five years, the mysterious Maoist encounters and many more. The electioneering in Kerala was a sad reminder of how political parties prefer to depend entirely on issues that are communal and emotive in nature to elicit a quick response in an election. Now that the voting is done and they must wait till May 2 for the results, the parties can use this time to reflect on the election discourse they scripted. They must reflect on the issues they should have spoken about but sorely missed. They must examine if the narrative they adopted served any purpose other than manipulating the voter's mind to secure a favourable electoral outcome.

HEAVY LIFT TO QUENCH TELANGANA'S THIRST

Execution of irrigation projects and canals is not new but interlinking river basins and sub-basins within a state is certainly laudable. Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao recently launched a reverse link that connects Godavari river to one of its tributaries, Manjeera, through a canal. The Kaleshwaram Lift Irrigation Project involving several barrages, aqueducts, tunnels—all to lift hundreds of tmcft of water from Godavari to bring irrigation to lakhs of acres in almost the entire North Telangana region—has crossed another milestone.

The Godavari waters from Kondapochamma reservoir of the Kaleshwaram scheme is now flowing into its tributary Manjeera via Haldivagu, a local stream. The water in Manjeera is on its way to Nizamsagar to fill it up. The Nizamsagar project, built in 1923 by Mir Osman Ali Khan, the then Nizam of Hyderabad, has over a period of time fallen on bad days since no water has been flowing into it for decades. This is on account of a number of projects that have come up on the Manjeera in upstream Karnataka, drying it up completely. But now it is going to acquire a new lease of life, with water coursing through Haldivagu-Manjeera and finally gushing into Nizamsagar after filling several tanks and check dams enroute. It is a great relief to farmers whose lands along Haldivagu and Manjeera have been crying for water for decades. Thanks to this project, waters from the same river are drawn from downstream where it is abundant and taken in the reverse direction, finally joining the main river upstream.

The Kaleshwaram scheme, touted as the largest multi-stage lift irrigation project in the world, is an innovation by itself as it lifts water from Godavari from a depth of 250 ft in Medigadda in Peddapalli district and after pumping at different places, the water finally is delivered at Kondapochamma reservoir after traversing a gradient of 618 m MSL. The project, conceived by KCR, is continuing to quench the thirst of Telangana's parched lands.

The pandemic will permanently change the contours of globalisation. India needs to understand that and work towards making its manufacturing industries self-reliant

COVID AND THE SENTIMENT AGAINST GLOBALISATION

AMIT BANDRE

PROSENJIT DATTA

Senior business journalist

Covid-19 may permanently alter the contours of globalisation and Indian policymakers need to be aware of both the opportunities and the threats. Before Covid-19, the anti-globalisation sentiment was driven largely by leaders who had promised to create more jobs for their countrymen. Now it is being spurred by supply side concerns, especially in a few critical areas.

Last year, supply chain disruptions were caused by lockdowns in different nations. China's lockdown of Wuhan created the initial disruption. But as other countries too closed their borders to reduce the pandemic, freight movement globally was thrown out of gear. The need to stockpile healthcare essentials such as PPEs and sanitisers also caused countries with production facilities to clamp down on exports to other countries. The natural by-product of this was that all countries looked for local manufacturing options for these.

Many experts thought this would be temporary. The unprecedented global cooperation to search for vaccines and drugs seemed to show that globalisation would increase rather than decrease. Vaccine research and development saw scientists, research laboratories, pharmaceutical firms, clinical trial organisations and contract vaccine manufacturers across the world work closely together.

But that cooperation flattered to deceive. The richest nations quickly started locking up vaccine supplies for their own populations. The US particularly went on to stockpile vaccines far in excess of its needs, denying vaccines even to its closest allies. In Europe too, spats broke out as AstraZeneca told the EU that it could supply only half of what it had signed an agreement for because of production problems. Within the EU, member states are squabbling over the supplies each will get quickly.

The US and several EU nations are giving hundreds of millions of dollars to help companies build new vaccine capacities and secure supplies for themselves. The US has also blocked exports of key ingredients like filters and bioreactor bags that are necessary for making vaccines using the Defence Production Act—leading the world's biggest vaccine manufacturer, Serum Institute of India, to warn that it could affect vaccine production in our country.

Vaccines are not the only area. The global chip shortage has hit manufacturing companies in multiple industries across the globe. It started with automobiles but now the shortage is expected to affect all manner of consumer durables and electronic items over the next couple of years.

This has led the US, South Korea, Taiwan and China to commit spending billions to build new chip manufacturing capacities. As chips are pretty well used in almost everything, the countries that manage to secure supplies will control them all. While Taiwan and South Korea are building capacities for the global market, the US and China are primarily looking at safeguarding their own manufacturing interests.

The US wants to rebuild manufacturing within its own shores using robotics and automation to make up for a higher cost labour.

> India's Achilles heel lies in its lack of chip manufacturing facilities, which makes it crucially dependent on global supplies for its manufacturing industry. If the Centre is serious about manufacturing, it must address this issue

For China, the primary need is to ensure that it does not lose its dominant position as a factory to the world and to also ensure that it remains at the cutting edge of all important technologies.

Some countries, like those in Europe, are too small to make them suitable bases for mass manufacturing in many industries. Others, like many African and Latin American nations, have their own issues, ranging from costs to infrastructure.

What does that mean for India? In pharmaceuticals, and especially in vaccines, India has been the low-cost manufacturing powerhouse, which is only going to increase. Its willingness to supply vaccines and medicines to other countries is earning it brownie points as a global supplier. But it needs to ensure that the entire chain is secured—from active pharma ingredients that it depended on China for to the filters, etc., that it imports from the US.

India's Achilles heel lies in its lack of chip manufacturing facilities, which makes it crucially dependent on global supplies for its manufacturing industry. If the Indian government is serious about manufacturing, it will need to address this issue. The domestic market has enough potential for setting up big factories for multiple products but unless it secures its chip supplies, it will remain vulnerable.

While the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY) has been trying to attract chip firms, it has so far failed to evince any serious interest because of three factors. One, the investment required is phenomenal. Two, the technology is very high-end and starting from scratch is a serious handicap. Three, chip manufacturing requires immense quantities of clean water and reliable, low cost electricity supply. Many global companies think that chip manufacturing in India will never be as cost effective as in Taiwan or Korea.

One option that MeitY is also exploring is to buy or take shares in chip fabs abroad or at least place long-term orders in them to secure supplies. If it is a friendly country such as South Korea or a non-threatening neighbour like Taiwan, it would work.

Beyond that, taking the long view, Indian policymakers should look at the roots of the issue. It needs to look at why land, cheap power and clean water still remain a hurdle to manufacturing industries in our country.

A DAIS AS BIG AS EARTH, A CANOPY AS WIDE AS SKY

SRINIVAS SISTLA

Associate Professor, Department of Fine Arts, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam

If a person's life is flourishing, say, like a flower perpetually in full bloom, others would say about the person, "Nitya Kalyanam, Pacha Toranam", which in English may not sound great; but the idiom means 'eternal wedding, green streamers'. These days, most weddings occur in marriage halls where wedding planners take care of the dais, its decoration, etc. But in earlier times, a family would set a modest dais (arugu in Telugu) for the bride, bridegroom and a few others, and also a spacious canopy (pandiri in Telugu) in front of the dais for guests. Before setting them, the family head would say a fine idiom, "Aakasa-manta pandiri, Bhoodevi-anta arugu", which means that the wedding would be conducted on a dais as big as the Earth-Goddess in front of a canopy as wide as the sky. This particular expression reminds me of the Kalyana Mantapa of Sri Jalakhanteswara Temple in the Vellore Fort (late 16th century), which was built by Chinna Bomma Nayanka and Timma Nayaka. The exquisitely carved Kalyana Mantapa, which appears to date earlier than the surrounding fort, presents a visual version of the same idiom in its architectural and sculptural layout, and also adds many more nuances to the expression, quite fascinatingly.

Wedding halls in South Indian temples seem to have been added only from the mid-15th century onwards, and were known in inscriptions as kalyana vedi (wedding dais); for, such vedis were built in stone, but without a permanent canopy. The splendid Kalyana Mantapa (before 1554) in Sri Vijaya Vittala Temple in Hampi is one such fine example where the pillared vedi is open in all directions with ample open space around it for guests to sit.

The Jalakhanteswara wedding pavilion comprises a spacious pillared Kalyana Mantapa and a Kalyana Vedi with a large arena around it, all built in stone. The square-shaped vedi is shown resting on Adi Kurma (chief tortoise), which has its head at the front, and its four legs below the four corners of the dais. The lowest recess on the dais contains standing images of Indra with his elephant and other figures. As the dais is a three-dimensional sculpture, when a person goes round it and observes keenly, only then he/she would realise that the carvings in the recess include the Asta Dikpalakas (rulers of the eight cardinal directions), Asta Diggajas (eight divine elephants) and the Asta Seshas (eight divine serpents). These three sets of figures, in my opinion, clearly suggest that this specific vedi represents the whole earth, symbolically. Further a pair of lions, each at the four corners of the dais, hint that the vedi is like a simha-asana, the throne of a king. Interestingly, a continuous row of wavy patterns have been carved right above these earth-bearing divinities; this pattern seems to represent the ocean surrounding the earth. Ancient Indian literature contains many references that state that Adi Kurma, Adi Sesha and Asta Diggajas carry the earth; and the same idea was also replicated in art, as on the outer wall of Sri Mallikarjuna Temple at Srisailam and many other edifices. But the Jalakhanteswara wedding dais is very unique; for, it presents the idea in greater detail.

The mantapa, in front of the same vedi, contains many pillars with numerous panels showing various themes from Indian epics, mythologies and even a few genre ones. The ceiling of this edifice is even more captivating; for, it displays a galaxy of sky-bound divinities set in two independent square-shaped panels around a blooming lotus with many petals and parrots on them. These two panels seem to represent two different realms of the sky. One shows the eight cardinal rulers seated on their respective mounts and accompanied by their assistants, seemingly in a procession to attend the wedding of Siva and Parvati to be held on the vedi. The lotus here is surrounded by dancers, suggesting the wedding-related festivities. The other panel is more intricately carved with many divinities, including Vishnu and other Gods and Goddesses, and also Narada, Tumbura and so on. As no procession and dance are shown here, these divinities seem to be viewing the wedding from their own realm, without descending from the sky. These two panels suggest that this ceiling represents the whole sky. Thus, this unique combination of the entire earth and the vast sky, respectively, in the form of the dais and the canopy, make the Jalakhenteswara Kalyana Mantapa very special, and in many ways, like a poetic recitation in stone, a one of its kind masterpiece in Indian architecture and sculpture.

Curfew is not enough

While the Delhi government's decision to impose night curfews in the city from 10 pm to 5 am everyday due to the Covid spike is a good idea, it is not enough to curtail the virus. Covid-appropriate behaviour like wearing masks and social distancing is more important.

Yogi renews attack on Mamata

Kolkata: Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath on Wednesday flayed the TMC in West Bengal, alleging that its leaders swindled whatever central aid was extended to the state, from "funds to ration supplies". The senior BJP leader also said his Bengal counterpart Mamata Banerjee has deprived the state of the Centre's development schemes. "By not being a part of several central welfare schemes, Mamataji has deprived the state."

Shah promises industry in battleground of Singur

Development through privatisation, says BJP stalwart in poll rally

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

SINGUR in the district of Hooghly is a milestone in West Bengal's political landscape. Mamata Banerjee's movement against the Tata Motors factory proposed here played a part in the fall of the Left Front government in 2011. Holding her responsible for lack of industries in the region, Amit Shah on Wednesday promised growth in the area at an election rally.

"Singur has been shunned since the agitation led by Mamata Banerjee. She is responsible for Singur's sufferings. What has she done for Singur? Nothing. After coming to power in West Bengal, BJP will develop the area by rapid privatisation. Not only automobile industries, other industries will also come here for investment," said Shah at roadshow, attended by a large crowd.

Shah, who held three roadshows on Wednesday in two districts adjoining Kolkata, said the BJP-led government in West Bengal will offer a change in mindset when it comes to industries. He was speaking three days after Prime Minister Narendra Modi addressed a rally in Singur. In his speech, Modi had said Mamata's "obstructionist mindset" deprived Bengal of industries and jobs.

Standing atop a decorated vehicle with octogenarian BJP candidate for the Singur seat Rabindranath Bhattacharya, who defected to BJP from the ruling party recently, Shah waved at people standing by the roadside and on rooftops.

"A roadmap will be prepared to bring small, medium and large industries to Singur. Instead of confrontation, we will pursue politics of development, dialogue and cooperation," said the Union home minister.

Taking a jibe at the Bengal chief minister's allegation accusing the Prime Minister and other BJP leaders of polarising Hindu electorates, Shah mocked at the TMC heavyweight's recent tendency to worship Hindu gods in public meetings and reciting Sanskrit hymns. "But that it is too late for her. The BJP will wrest power in Bengal with more than 200 seats," he said.

Donning a saffron turban, the 89-year-old BJP candidate Bhattacharya, a four-time TMC MLA from Singur, stood beside Shah during the roadshow that travelled for an hour amidst Jai Shri Ram slogans.

EC notice to Didi on code violation

New Delhi: The Election Commission on Wednesday issued a notice to West Bengal Chief Minister and TMC leader Mamata Banerjee for appealing to Muslims in the state that "their votes should not be divided". The poll panel claimed that prima facie, it appeared to be violation of Model Code of Conduct (MCC) and gave her 48 hours to explain her stand on the matter. The development comes just a day after Prime Minister Narendra Modi hit out at the TMC chief, claiming her comments indicate that the Muslim vote bank is slipping from the TMC's grasp. "Didi recently asked all Muslims to vote en bloc for her. It shows that the Muslim vote bank is slipping out of her hands. Had we said the same thing that all Hindus should unite, everybody would have criticised us. The EC would have sent us notices. We would have been censured," Modi had said while addressing an election rally on Tuesday. The BJP had on Monday approached the EC seeking action against Banerjee, alleging she had violated the Representation of the People's Act by asking Muslims to come together and vote for her party in the state Assembly polls. At a rally on April 3, she had urged Muslim voters to vote en bloc for her party.

BJP's prediction of win nothing but lie, counters Mamata

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

REFUTING the BJP's prediction that it will win most of the seats that have gone to polls in West Bengal so far, Mamata Banerjee accused the party of lying. She called it a strategy with a track record of failure. The chief minister also asked women voters to take on the central forces if they faced difficulties in casting votes.

Addressing a rally in Jadavpur in southern Kolkata, Mamata pointed out that BJP had predicted big wins in Maharashtra, Jharkhand and Delhi also, which turned out to be erroneous assumptions. "In Jharkhand, they claimed they would get absolute majority but ended up with 25 out of 81. Similarly, before results were announced in Maharashtra, they kept saying that they would win two-third of seats and finished with one-third instead. In Delhi, they claimed publicly that the BJP would form the government but got only eight seats out of 70. In Bengal, they are talking about victory in 68-70 seats in the 91 where polls have been conducted. From past examples, you could easily realise how they utter a bunch of lies."

Reiterating her allegations against central force personnel, Mamata in another rally in north Bengal's Cooch Behar urged women to take their own steps. "The forces from Delhi are working at the behest of BJP. A section of state police officers are also hand in gloves with them. If you find central force personnel creating trouble and asking you not to cast your votes, I request the women voters to split into two groups. One group should surround the forces so that the other group can go to the polling booth."

Protesting against Mamata's callstatement, BJP leaders moved Election Commission and demanded to censor the chief minister. The has Commission sought a report.

Mamata also urged voters to secure TMC's victory in more than 200 seats. "If I win alone, nothing will happen. You have to secure victory of TMC's candidates. We want to win in 200 seats because BJP will purchase some more traitors who will change their political colour after winning as TMC candidates," said Mamata.

Before Assembly elections, the ruling party witnessed massive defection of party heavyweights to the BJP, which include her former cabinet colleague Suvendu Adhukari.

Shah claims victory in '63-68' seats out of 91

Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Wednesday said BJP is confident of winning 63 to 68 seats in the first three phases of elections held in West Bengal so far. Polling has been completed in 91 of the 294 Assembly seats in the state, which will see five more phases of elections. "BJP estimates it will win 63 to 68 seats in the first three phases of elections and gain a huge lead over Trinamool Congress, Communists and Congress," Shah said.

Naxalbari starting point of Rahul's Bengal visit

SO is there actually reluctance to fight the good fight? Not so, say key party insiders in New Delhi. Out in Kolkata, Rajya Sabha MP Pradip Bhattacharya, speaking while leading a padayatra for a candidate to file nomination papers, confirms that.

"Of course Rahul Gandhi will come. The focus till now was, naturally, on Assam and Kerala. With those out of the way, you will see a heightened direct campaigning in places where we are seriously in the fray," he tells TNIE.

Up north in Naxalbari, the Congress candidate is, ironically, a businessman named Sankar Malakar — and he has a few more secrets to offer. It's from Naxalbari, a place-name that is a byword throughout India for revolution, that Rahul Gandhi will start his Bengal campaign!

It will likely not be a rally proper but a 20-km roadshow that will take Rahul from Naxalbari to Matigara, also part of the same Siliguri subdivision of Darjeeling district — together, they form the proper name of the constituency. The dates are a bit iffy — but April 11-13 is likely.

"There's no irony at all," Malakar tells TNIE. "The ground situation here is not being reported by media. There's a lot of anger among the people here because of the Modi government's privatisation policies, plus price rise. Rahul Gandhi's stance resonates here."

The full campaign plan thereafter is a bit hazy, but reports suggest one can expect a high-profile RaGa run through the core north-central districts of Malda and Murshidabad.

There won't be any Priyanka, though. At least that's the word now. Nor will there be any of the others. Party insiders in Delhi say figures like Kamal Nath, Digvijay Singh and Sachin Pilot do not wish to come — primarily citing that same reluctance to speak against Mamata. Abhishek Manu Singhvi, though not quite a campaign trail-scorcher, explicates the problem: he is actually in the Rajya Sabha from Bengal, courtesy Mamata, and fights their big cases when the TMC is in trouble. And the race in Bengal seems poised so dramatically that another angle opens up. Say there's a hung Assembly—a scenario that some TMC supporters laugh at. What happens then? Will the Congress-Left decide to support Mamata?

Well, the talk is that most voices in the Congress look upon that option favourably. Mamata, at this juncture, is universally seen as the bulwark of the fight against the BJP in Bengal. Most state leaders too would apparently plump for that. The lone holdout there, reportedly, is West Bengal Congress chief Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury.

To offer support, if it at all comes to that, the Congress first needs to win a few seats. Only then can one even imagine that intriguing scenario: a post-poll mahagathbandhan!

Maoists release jawan's photo, family doubts

FAYAZ WANI/EJAZ KAISER
@ Srinagar/Raipur

HOURS after Maoists released a picture of Rakeshwar Singh Manhas, his family demanded the captors to release a fresh picture or video clip for proving that the CRPF personnel was safe in their captivity.

They also urged the PM and the government to ensure his safe rescue.

After expressing willingness to negotiate with the government through a mediator, the Maoists on Wednesday released an image of Manhas giving an impression that he was safe in their custody.

But, Manhas' cousin Vicky Pangali said the picture purportedly released by Maoists is old. "It does not prove that he is in their captivity. They should release his latest picture or a small video clip to prove that he is in their captivity so that family knows that he is safe."

Meenu said it has been five days since her husband has gone missing and they are praying for his safety. "I appeal to the PM to rescue him safely. The way Abhinandan (Varthaman) was brought back from Pakistan, he too should be rescued safely. The government should make concrete steps to rescue him."

Earlier, Meenu along with other family members, relatives and neighbours blocked vehicles on Jammu-Aknoor road demanding Manhas be rescued at the earliest. Manhas' sister made an impassioned appeal to the government for securing his release. "Please give me my brother back. I beg that my brother be brought back. I want to meet him," she said.

Behaviour contradictory to instructions causes conflict in students: PM to parents

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE ongoing pandemic has strengthened the emotional bonding among family members and showed importance of joint family system, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Wednesday.

In his 'Pareeksha pae Charcha' interaction, Modi remarked that research institutions should study the role of a joint family in the times of the pandemic. "In times of social distancing, emotional bonding among the family members deepened, and the children became aware of the importance of the people around them."

To a question on the pandemic's impact on children since schools remained shut, the PM said while students did miss many things, they also became acquainted with many other aspects of lives which they may have been taking for granted or considering them as part of a routine.

Giving personal example, he exhorted students to take up tough assignments when they are fresh in the morning. "I also address the tough assignments in the morning when I am fresh. I keep the easy tasks for the later parts of the day."

He called upon parents and teachers to develop bonds with children by setting examples. Stressing that the instructions given to children should be practiced by parents, Modi said the contradictory behaviour by elders create conflicts in the minds of the students.

US keen on India-Pakistan dialogue

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE US has said that it continues to encourage direct dialogue between India and Pakistan on issues of concern.

The State Department, however, refused to comment directly on the Pakistan Cabinet's decision not to import sugar and cotton from India. "I wouldn't want to comment on that specifically. What I would say is that we continue to support direct dialogue between India and Pakistan on issues of concern," State Department spokesperson Ned Price said during his news conference.

The issue arose after the Pakistan Cabinet on April 1 rejected the Economic Coordination Committee's suggestion that sugar and cotton must be imported from India. Pakistan Foreign Minister Shah Mehmood Qureshi said that ties with India cannot be normalised until the Kashmir issue was resolved.

The Economic Coordination Committee's decision came after the two nations had decided to strictly enforce the 2003 ceasefire and statements, perceived to be a soft attitude towards India, emerged from the top leadership in Islamabad.

Pakistan Army Chief General Qamar Bajwa had urged the Indian side to bury the past and move ahead saying that the Pakistan army was ready to hold dialogues to resolve outstanding issues, even the matter of Kashmir.

Both Prime Ministers had written to each other, stressing on the fact that an atmosphere of trust needs to be created to engage in dialogue.

Vaccination at workplaces from April 11

Minimum eligible age for inoculation is 45 years and above, offices need to have about 100 willing beneficiaries

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

COVID-19 vaccinations will be allowed at workplaces across the country from April 11, the government on Wednesday said, a move aimed to increase accessibility to the vaccine amid a sharp rise in the infections.

The Centre wrote a letter to the states and UTs asking them to prepare from April 11 a launch for vaccination centres at public and private workplaces having about 100 eligible beneficiaries. The minimum eligible age at workplaces remains the same — 45 years and above, the health ministry said in the letter to the states.

Health secretary Rajesh Bhushan said a substantial proportion of the population aged 45 years and above is in the organised sector of the economy and is involved in formal occupation in offices (government and private) or manufacturing and services. "To increase the access of vaccine to these populations, Covid-19 vaccination sessions may be organised at workplaces which are having about 100 eligible and willing beneficiaries by tagging these workplaces with an existing vaccination centre," Bhushan said.

> The vaccination sessions can be made up to 15 days in advance and intimated to the workplaces so that maximum attendance is ensured. In most of the workplaces, schedules may be completed in less than 15 days
> Health Ministry

He said the states can initiate due to consultations with private/public sector employers and management to prepare for the launch of workplace vaccination. The health secretary asked states and UTs to make adequate preparations and issued guidelines for workplace vaccination. According to the guidelines, only employees and no outsiders will be allowed for vaccination.

One of the senior staff of the organisation will be assigned to work as nodal officer to coordinate with district health authorities/private Covid vaccination centres (CVCs) and support vaccination activities. The beneficiaries will be required to register in the Co-WIN portal before vaccination and CVC nodal officer will ensure registration of all targeted beneficiaries and facility of on-the-spot registration will also be available but only to employees of the workplace, the guidelines said. For optimal utilisation of resources, vaccination sessions will be planned at workplace CVC once at least 50 beneficiaries get registered for vaccination, the government said.

As Covid cases rise, several states raise red flag over vax shortage

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

AMID a rising surge of Covid-19 cases across India, several districts in worst affected states like Maharashtra are complaining of vaccine shortage.

This despite the fact that by mid-March India had exported twice the number of doses it had administered at home. The vaccine export, as per sources, has since been halted. Here are ground reports on the vaccine availability in five states:

Maharashtra: Health Minister Rajesh Tope said on Wednesday that Maharashtra's vaccine stock would last only three days. He said if the Centre did not provide enough vaccines, the government would be forced to shut down vaccinations centres. "We have been vaccinating around 5 lakh people every day. Several centres in Vidarbha and other parts of the state have closed for want of the vaccines." He said the state is reporting more than 50,000 cases. Since more youths are getting infected, we have to rush with inoculation. We have written and reminded the Centre, but there has been no positive response," Tope said.

Jharkhand: Government sources said Jharkhand is heading towards a vaccine shortage as only 3.5 lakh dozes are available in the state. Health Secretary K K Soan said the state government has twice sent out requests to the Centre for more vaccines on March 23 and April 2, but it has not received any new consignment.

"The state quickly needs at least 5 lakh doses", said Soan. He said over 18 lakh individuals have been vaccinated so far in the state. "A special drive has been launched under which we have fixed a vaccination target of more than 1 lakh people daily," said Soan. He said the state might get fresh supplies by the second week of this month.

Madhya Pradesh: Though CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan on Tuesday said that there was no vaccine shortage in the state, sources said in smaller districts like Jhabua and Alirajpur in west MP and Shivpuri in Gwalior Chambal region and Satna in Vindhya region there was a shortage, which means the stocks in these areas would last three days.

Bihar: Though no official has come on record to talk about vaccine shortage, sources in the health department said the vaccination drive has slackened in a dozen districts because the stocks are running low in the last few days. The state has inoculated over 40 lakh people, including 4.5 lakh health workers. Government sources said more people were turning up for the vaccination following the second Covid wave, especially after Holi. Principal health secretary Pratyay Amrit said the state was trying to ramp up daily vaccinations to at least 4 lakh.

Odisha: Health Minister Naba Kishore Das wrote to the Centre seeking 25 lakh doses of vaccine. Over 600 vaccine centres were closed on Wednesday due to shortage of vaccine.

Doctors getting reinfected even after two shots

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Lucknow/Patna

WITH reports of Covid-19 infecting doctors who have been vaccinated, the Union Health Ministry said on Wednesday that the government will collect data on those testing Covid-19 positive even after getting vaccinated. Here's looking at two states — Uttar Pradesh and Bihar:

In Lucknow, about 40 doctors have tested positive in the last few days. Of the 40 doctors, around half of them belong to the general surgery department, nine of the urology department and three doctors of the department of medicine.

King Georges' Medical University (KGMU) vice-chancellor Lt Gen (retd) Dr Vipin Puri tested positive for the second time in nine months on Tuesday. He had received the second dose of vaccine on March 25.

Dr Sandeep Tiwari of the medical university confirmed that KGMU medical superintendent Dr Himanshu is among those tested Covid positive. Ironically, most of these doctors had taken both the doses of the vaccine.

On Wednesday, half a dozen of those employees who were deployed in the KGMU V-C office and had sent their samples, have also tested positive. This takes the number of total infected KGMU staff, including the doctors, paramedics, clerks and others, to over 45.

Sanjay Gandhi Post Graduate Institute of Medical Sciences director Dr RK Dhiman and his wife had tested positive three days ahead of Holi. This was despite both having received both the doses of the vaccine. When asked about the efficacy of the vaccine, Dr Dhiman said the jab was very effective in preventing hospitalization as well as deaths. After inoculation, the patient could get mild symptoms and was protected against severity of the ailment.

"There is a possibility of people testing positive for Covid despite taking the vaccine, but the intensity of the virus would be less," said Dr PK Gupta, former president, IMA, Lucknow chapter.

More than 26 doctors in Bihar have been reported Covid positive even after the inoculation. Many others are under home quarantine. Dr Umesh Kumar and his wife Dr Nirmala Singh from Biharsharif tested positive even after they were inoculated. One of the staff of the doctor couple also tested after being inoculated.

Similarly, nine medicos of various batches in Patna Medical College and Hospital also tested positive after being inoculated.

In the NMCH, eight medicos tested positive recently while one of them died in Begusarai after first doses of inoculation. Civil surgeon of Vaishali, Dr Inder Deo Ranjan, tested positive even after he had received the second dose of vaccine. He is under home isolation.

Every Indian deserves safe life, says Rahul

The Congress on Wednesday accused the government of not taking adequate steps to contain the spread of the virus and called for engagement with all stakeholders, including convening an all-party meeting, to increase vaccination. Congress leader Rahul Gandhi batted for Covid-19 vaccine for all, saying every Indian "deserves the chance to a safe life". "It's ridiculous to debate needs and wants. Every Indian deserves the chance to a safe life," Gandhi tweeted.

UP: Recipients of both jabs to get rewards

The UP government has announced a cash reward through a lucky draw for those who have received both doses of the vaccine. Additional chief secretary health Amit Mohan Prasad said the reward plan is being launched from Wednesday. A cash reward of `2,000 will be given to four-eight people in each 75 districts of the state through lucky draws. Only those districts which have achieved the target of a minimum 25,000 inoculations would qualify for the programme.

Punjab first state to ban political gatherings

Punjab became the first state to ban political gatherings and rallies till April 30. If any political party or a leader is found violating the norms, the party or the person will be booked under the DMA and Epidemics Act. The order may trigger another face-off between the ruling Congress and the SAD and AAP as both the opposition parties have been holding gatherings across the state in the run up to the Assembly elections next year.

Suspended cop targets Deshmukh, minister

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

SUSPENDED Mumbai police officer Sachin Waze has dropped a letter bomb against NCP's Anil Deshmukh and Shiv Sena's Anil Parab, claiming that the former had demanded Rs 50 crore and the latter ordered him to extort BMC contractors.

In his letter, Waze alleged Deshmukh, who recently quit as the home minister, called him instructing to monthly collect Rs 3 lakh from each of the 1,650 bars and restaurants in Mumbai. Deshmukh also demanded Rs 50 crore from the SBUT trust that is developing Bhendi Bazar, he added. "Deshmukh told me to pressure SBUT trust to give him Rs 50 crore as a collections money..." Shiv minister Parab summoned him to his bungalow and asked to extort the money from the fraudulent contractors in BMC, Waze alleged. "Anil Parab asked me to collect Rs 2 crore from 50 such fraudulent contractors. I refused."

Later, Parab refuted all allegations and added that BJP leaders were bent on tarnishing his image by framing him in false cases. "They are misusing the central agencies to damage the image of Maha Vikas Aghadi. I am ready to face any inquiry," he asserted. Maharashtra BJP state president Chandrakant Patil said Parab should resign on moral ground instead of waiting for the court to order an inquiry.

Ansari back in Banda prison, kept in isolation

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE much-hyped shifting of gangster-turned-politician and sitting BSP MLA Mukhtar Ansari from Punjab's Ropar Jail culminated at barrack number 16 of the Banda Jail in Uttar Pradesh amid tight security at 4.50 am on Wednesday.

Ansari, who has been brought back to the state in an ambulance after 14 months of a political tussle between two state governments and finally the intervention of the Supreme Court, has been kept in isolation at barrack no 16 under 24x7 CCTV camera surveillance. According to DG (prison) Anand Kumar, the jail premises was being monitored by senior officials directly from the command centre room at the jail headquarters in Lucknow.

The UP Police convoy covered almost 1,800 km in 14 hours to reach the Banda jail after taking the custody of the BSP MLA from Ropar jail at 2.10 pm on Tuesday. As Ansari's sample was not tested for Covid-19 at the Ropar jail, a team of doctors of the Banda Medical College conducted a medical examination and test for Covid on him before being lodged at the barrack. Kumar said the gangster was found to be having no major medical condition at the time he was lodged in Banda jail.

The jail administration has removed all old staff to ensure that the history-sheeter lives like an ordinary under-trial rather than to enjoy sops and favours extended by his contacts on the jail premises.

"To ensure tighten up the administrative and security arrangements at Banda jail, the Banda city magistrate has been given the charge of incharge jail superintendent," said the DG prison. He added that two additional deputy jailors were deputed in the jail.

The BSP MLA from Mau faces trial in UP in several cases, including attempt to murder and murder.

His transfer from Punjab was ordered by the Supreme Court after the UP government approached it, seeking the politician's custody from Punjab. The family has expressed concern over Ansari's safety while in UP, expressing apprehension about possible attempts to eliminate him.

The SC will hear on Friday Afshan Ansari's plea seeking directions to the UP authorities to ensure protection for her husband.

Shows insecurity: Mufti on order to hoist Tricolour

SRINAGAR: PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti on Wednesday said the J&K administration's directions to hoist the national flag on all government buildings in the union territory reflect a sense of insecurity as no such order has been issued anywhere else in the country.

L-G Manoj Sinha had asked officials to hoist the Tricolour on all government buildings in J&K late last month.

"This shows their sense of insecurity.. the sense of uncertainty. Why are such orders being issued in Jammu and Kashmir only? In other parts, the governor or the ruler does not issue such orders," Mehbooba said. Asked about the recent exodus of leaders from her party, the PDP chief said the deserters should answer this question. ENS

Pillar works of Tallah bridge on at fast pace

The West Bengal government has decided to complete the foundation works of two remaining pillars that are coming up on railway land for the proposed Tallah Bridge by April. Engineers said completion of foundation works of the right pillars, including these two, by April would mean inching closer towards the target of finishing the construction of the bridge by 2022. The railways has agreed to block traffic from midnight till 5 am for the entire month of April so that the foundation work of the two pillars can completed in time. Machinery and men have also moved so that the work can wrapped up by April. The new bridge is coming to replace the old bridge, which had lost much of its strength and was in danger of collapse. The old bridge was demolished last year.

Colleges to continue with reduced fee

Ramakrishna Mission Vidyamandira and St Xavier's College are continuing with reduced fee structure in the ongoing semester, which started in March, taking into account the Covid-induced financial problems faced by families of students. At Vidyamandira, the reduction, which was introduced in November, varies from 30 to 40 per cent on an average for undergraduate and postgraduate students. The reduced fee structure will continue in the new semester. The St Xavier's College authorities said they have informed the students that the reduced fee structure would continue for now.

Anti-coup protesters burn a Chinese flag during a demonstration in Yangon on Wednesday | AP

11 killed as junta raids town that resisted with weapons

Dozens in Myanmar's Kalay had fought back using homemade arms

YANGON

SECURITY forces on Wednesday stormed a town in northwestern Myanmar where some residents had used homemade hunting rifles to resist the military's February seizure of power, killing at least 11 civilians and injuring many others, local news reports said.

The online news site Khonumthung Burmese said the attack on Kalay began before dawn. Videos on the site included what appeared to be sounds of rifle fire, high-caliber weapons and grenade explosions. Posts on social media said rocket-propelled grenades were used in the attack, but provided no evidence. Elsewhere, two protesters were shot dead near Yangon. Activists set fire to Chinese flags in Yangon.

There were also reports of a Chinese manufacturing facility near the city being set on fire. The fire at JOC Galaxy (Myanmar) Apparel Company, broke out in the pre-dawn hours. Global Times reported that it was likely a case of arson as tools were found at the site. There were no reports of casualties.

It comes as a group representing Myanmar's ousted civilian government said it has gathered 1,80,000 pieces of evidence showing rights abuses by the junta including torture and extrajudicial killings.

A lawyer for the Committee for Representing Pyidaungsu Hluttaw (CRPH)—a group of MPs from Suu Kyi's National League for Democracy (NLD) party—met UN investigators Wednesday to discuss alleged atrocities by the junta.

"CRPH has received 1,80,000 items of evidence. This evidence shows widescale abuses of human rights by the military," the group said in a statement. They include more than 540 extrajudicial executions, 10 deaths of prisoners in custody, torture, illegal detentions and disproportionate use of force against peaceful protests, the statement said.

Demonstrations calling for the return of democracy and the release of Suu Kyi from detention have rocked Myanmar almost daily since the coup.

In response, the security forces have used rubber bullets and live rounds to break up rallies and detained thousands of activists, some in night raids.

The Assistance Association for Political Prisoners (AAPP), a local monitoring group, says 581 civilians have been killed in the crackdown and more than 2,700 arrested. Nearly 50 of the dead were children.

With many protest supporters and NLD activists now in hiding to escape arrest, the junta is increasingly taking their family members hostage, according to AAPP.

The head of the military authorities, General Min Aung Hlaing, insisted they had dealt with the protests "in a democratic way", in a speech on Wednesday. Agencies

Iranian ship on fire after Israeli attack

TEHRAN

AN Iranian ship believed to be a base for the paramilitary Revolutionary Guard and anchored for years in the Red Sea off Yemen was attacked on Wednesday morning.

According to a senior American official quoted by the New York Times, Israel has notified the US that it carried out the mine attack, calling it a revenge of the past Iranian attacks on Israeli vessels.

The assault came as Iran and world powers sat down in Vienna for the first talks about the US potentially rejoining the tattered deal aimed at curbing Iran's nuclear program, showing events outside the negotiations could derail those efforts. The ship's long presence in the region, repeatedly criticised by Saudi Arabia, has come as the West and United Nations experts say Iran has provided arms and support to Yemen's Houthi rebels in that country's yearslong war.

Iran denies arming the Houthis, though components found in the rebels' weaponry link back to Tehran.

Iran previously described the Saviz as aiding in "anti-piracy" efforts in the Red Sea and the Bab el-Mandeb strait, a crucial chokepoint in international shipping. A statement attributed to Foreign Ministry spokesman Saeed Khatibzadeh described the ship as a commercial vessel.

"Fortunately, no casualties were reported ... and technical investigations are underway," Khatibzadeh said. "Our country will take all necessary measures through international authorities."

Israeli officials declined to comment about the assault when reached by The Associated Press, as did the Saviz's owner.

Iran's semiofficial Tasnim news agency, believed to be close to the Guard, reported that a limpet mine planted on Saviz's hull caused the blast.

A limpet mine is a type of naval mine that is attached to the side of a ship, usually by a diver. It later explodes, and can significantly damage a vessel. Iran did not blame anyone for the attack and said Iranian officials likely would offer more information in the coming days.

In a statement, the US military's Central Command only said it was aware of media reports of an incident involving the Saviz and that US forces were not involved.

On Wednesday, Iranian President Hassan Rouhani called the Vienna talks a "success" while speaking to his Cabinet. "Today, one united statement is being heard that all sides of the nuclear deal have concluded that there is no better solution than the deal," he said.

A European diplomat with knowledge of the talks, speaking on condition of anonymity to frankly discuss the closed-door meeting in Vienna, acknowledged outside events could affect the negotiations.

"We hope that every action, whether it comes from (nuclear deal) parties or external parties, won't undermine the dynamic," he said.

The Saviz, owned by the state-linked Islamic Republic of Iran Shipping Lines, came to the Red Sea in late 2016, according to ship-tracking data. In the years since, it has drifted off the Dahlak archipelago, a chain of islands off the coast of Eritrea. Agencies

Anger after Imran links rape to victim's clothing

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN rights campaigners have accused Prime Minister Imran Khan of "baffling ignorance" after the former cricketer blamed how women dress for a rise in rape cases.

In a weekend interview on live television, Oxford-educated Khan said an increase in rapes indicated the "consequences in any society where vulgarity is on the rise".

"The incidents of rape of women... (have) actually very rapidly increased in society," he said. He advised women to cover up to prevent temptation. "This entire concept of purdah is to avoid temptation, not everyone has the willpower to avoid it," he said, using a term that can refer to modest dress or the segregation of the sexes. Hundreds of activists have signed a statement circulating online on Wednesday calling Khan's comments "factually incorrect, insensitive and dangerous".

"Fault rests solely with the rapist and the system that enables the rapist, including a culture fostered by statements such as those made by (Khan)," the statement said.

The Human Rights Commission of Pakistan, an independent rights watchdog, said Tuesday it was "appalled" by the comments. "Not only does this betray a baffling ignorance, but it also lays the blame on rape survivors," the commission said. AFP

G20 to extend halt on debt payments by poor countries

ROME

G20 finance ministers and central bankers agreed on Wednesday to extend a moratorium on debt interest payments for the poorest countries, which could lag behind the global recovery from the coronavirus pandemic.

In an online meeting, the Group of 20 most powerful nations also offered its support for the International Monetary Fund's plan to boost its reserve offerings by $650 billion to help impoverished countries.

"We will further step up our support to vulnerable countries as they address the challenges associated with the Covid-19 pandemic," a joint statement issued by the G20 said. The IMF has forecast faster than expected global economic growth this year, of 6.0 per cent, after the pandemic in 2020 caused the worst peacetime downturn since the Great Depression.

But US Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen has warned of the risk that the pandemic reverses years of progress in fighting poverty and closing the gap between poor and rich nations.

"We will further step up our support to vulnerable countries as they address the challenges associated with the Covid-19 pandemic," a joint statement issued by the G20 said. The G20 said the debt moratorium, which was introduced in April last year and extended in October until June 30, would be prolonged one more time until December.

"This final extension will allow beneficiary countries to mobilise more resources to face the challenges of the crisis and, where appropriate, to move to a more structural approach to address debt vulnerabilities," its statement said.

Also on the agenda was a US proposal for a global minimum tax rate for corporations, which is supported by the IMF and by major economies including France and Germany.

Islamic State among 11 groups to be banned

Sri Lanka will ban 11 Islamic radical organisations, including the Islamic State (ISIS) and Al Qaeda, for their links to extremist activities, according to an official announcement on Wednesday. A statement from Attorney-General's office said that he had authorised to proscribe 9 local extremist groups alongside Al Qaeda and ISIS. Officials said the proscription will come into force soon. In the immediate aftermath of the 2019 Easter Sunday suicide attacks that killed 270 people, including 11 Indians, Sri Lanka banned the local Jihadi group National Thowheeth Jamaath (NTJ) and two other groups. A special probe panel appointed in 2019 by former president Maithripala Sirisena had recommended the banning of Muslim extremist organisations which advocate radicalism.

Landslides toll rises to 140, search on for the missing

The death toll from mudslides in eastern Indonesia has risen to 140 with dozens still missing, officials said Wednesday, as rain continued to pound the region and hamper the search. East Flores district on Adonara island suffered the highest losses with 67 bodies recovered so far. Mud tumbled down from surrounding hills early on Sunday, catching people at sleep. Some were swept away by flash floods after overnight rains caused rivers to burst their banks. Hundreds of police, soldiers and residents dug through the debris with their bare hands, shovels and hoes searching for those buried

Local cases involving UK strain detected

Thailand has confirmed its first local cases of the coronavirus variant first detected in the UK, raising the likelihood that it is facing a new wave of the pandemic, a senior doctor said. The variant was found in blood samples from 24 people in a new cluster of cases involving customers of nightlife venues in the capital, Bangkok, said Dr Yong Pooworavan, a virologist from the Faculty of Medicine at Bangkok's Chulalongkorn University. The variant was found in Thailand for the first time in January in four members of a family arriving from Britain who had been quarantined. The new cluster from nightspots in the southern province of Narathiwat, had already caused major concern. Bangkok officials on Monday ordered the closing for two weeks of almost 200 bars

US cites rising threat to Taiwan

Taiwan's foreign minister on Wednesday said the island will defend itself 'to the very last day' if attacked by China. It comes amid warnings from the US military that China is probably accelerating its timetable for capturing control of Taiwan

MORE AGGRESSIVE CHINESE POLICY

The worry about Taiwan comes as China wields new strength from years of military buildup. It has become more aggressive with Taiwan and more assertive in sovereignty disputes in the South China Sea

Beijing also has become more confrontational with Washington; senior Chinese officials traded sharp and unusually public barbs with Secretary of State Antony Blinken in talks in Alaska last month

Chinese diplomatic pressure has been growing, reducing the number of Taiwan's formal diplomatic allies to just 15 and shutting its representatives out of the World Health Assembly

A TEST FOR BIDEN

A military move against Taiwan, however, would be a test of US support for the island that Beijing views as a breakaway province

For the Biden administration, it could present the choice of abandoning a friendly, democratic entity or risking what could become an all-out war over a cause that is not on the radar of most Americans

The United States has long pledged to help Taiwan defend itself, but it has deliberately left unclear how far it would go in response to a Chinese attack

We are willing to defend ourselves. We fill fight a war if we need to fight a war, and if we need to defend ourselves to the very last day, then we will defend ourselves to the very last day

— Joseph Wu, Taiwan's foreign minister

US'S IMMEDIATE FLASHPOINT

Some American military leaders see Taiwan as potentially the most immediate flashpoint

"We have indications that the risks are actually going up," Admiral Philip Davidson, the most senior US military commander in the Asia-Pacific region, told a Senate panel last month, referring to a Chinese military move on Taiwan

Days later, Davidson's expected successor, Admiral John Aquilino told senators at his confirmation hearing: "This problem is much closer to us than most think"

Biden restores aid to Palestinians, says he will back two-state solution

WASHINGTON

US President Joe Biden expressed his support on Wednesday for a two-state solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict as his administration restored aid to the Palestinians severed under Donald Trump.

"The President also affirmed that the United States supports a two-state solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict," the White House said. President Joe Biden's administration said the United States would again support the UN agency caring for Palestinian refugees with a contribution of $150 million.

The US will also offer $75 million in economic and development assistance for the West Bank and Gaza and $10 million for peacebuilding efforts.

"US foreign assistance for the Palestinian people serves important US interests and values. It provides critical relief to those in great need, fosters economic development and supports Israeli-Palestinian understanding, security coordination and stability," Secretary of State Antony Blinken said.

The US agreed in talks Wednesday with Iraq to remove all remaining combat forces deployed to fight Islamic State extremists, although US forces will still provide training.

"The parties confirmed that the mission of US and Coalition forces has now transitioned to one focused on training, thereby allowing for the redeployment of any remaining combat forces from Iraq," said the statement. AFP

RBI to mandate PPI interoperability

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank has made it clear that it will now make it mandatory for prepaid payments instruments issuers (such as mobile wallets) to adopt interoperability, a move that will let their customers transact with others after doing a full-KYC (know your customer).

It will also double the maximum balance that a single account can hold in a payments bank to ₹2 lakh at the end of the day.

RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said in a post-meeting press briefing that PPIs had been given the option to become interoperable, with customers of one company being able to send funds to those of other PPIs or banks, in 2018 once a full KYC was done.

"Despite the passage of two years, migration towards full-KYC PPIs, and therefore interoperability, is not significant. It is, therefore, proposed to make interoperability mandatory for full-KYC PPIs and for all acceptance infrastructure," Das pointed out. In order to incentivise this migration, it is proposed to increase the limit of outstanding balance in such PPIs, he noted.

Das also said that the RBI has been stressing on interoperability to optimally utilise such instruments given the constraint of scarce acceptance infrastructure like point of sale devices, ATMs, QR codes, bill-payment touch points. Necessary instructions in this regard will be issued separately, Das said.

The RBI has also decided to permit the facility of cash withdrawal, subject to a limit, for full-KYC PPIs of non-bank PPI issuers as well as a confidence building measure.

New G-SAP initiative focused on stablising G-Sec market ops

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank (RBI) on Wednesday said that it was putting in place a secondary market government securities acquisition programme (G-SAP 1.0) of ₹1 lakh crore for the first quarter of this financial year in order to enable an orderly evolution of the G-Sec yield curve. Experts hailed the move, noting that it would help in calming yields and controlling undue volatility.

The RBI said that the endeavour would be to ensure congenial financial conditions for the recovery to gain traction. Under the programme, which will run through 2021-22, RBI will commit "upfront to a specific amount of open market purchases of government securities with a view to enabling a stable and orderly evolution of the yield curve amidst comfortable liquidity conditions," Shaktikanta Das said.

For the first quarter, RBI will conduct a G-SAP of ₹1 lakh crore, and the first purchase of government securities for an aggregate amount of ₹25,000 crore will be conducted on April 15. The benchmark 10-year bond, which traded at 5.93 per cent (on an average) during April 2020-January 2021, had spiked to 6.25 per cent on March 10, 2021 before coming down again. Corporate bond yields have also hardened.

During the briefing, Das told reporters that G-SAP is different from the regular Open Market Operations (OMOs). "It has a distinct character... for the first time we are giving out a particular quantum of bond purchase in the secondary market," he pointed out.

RBI relief to ECB borrowers

Under the extant norms, borrowers are allowed to place ECB proceeds in term deposits with banks in India for a maximum period of 12 months only.

Moratoriums not needed yet

Amid an increase in localised lockdowns across the country, Reserve Bank Governor Shaktikanta Das on Wednesday said there is no need for a loan repayments moratorium at present, stating that businesses are better prepared to face the situation. He, however, added that he could not give indications on the future course of actions that may be taken.

RBI to set up panel to review ARC workings

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN order to facilitate the smooth functioning of Asset Reconstruction Companies (ARCs), the RBI on Wednesday decided to set up a panel to undertake a comprehensive review of the working of such institutions.

After enactment of the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest (SARFAESI) Act in 2002, regulatory guidelines for ARCs were issued in 2003 to enable development of this sector and to facilitate their smooth functioning.

Since then, ARCs have grown in number and size but their potential for resolving stressed assets is yet to be realised fully, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said on Wednesday while announcing the first bi-monthly monetary policy for the current financial year.

"It is, therefore, proposed to constitute a committee to undertake a comprehensive review of the working of ARCs in the financial sector ecosystem and recommend suitable measures for enabling such entities to meet the growing requirements of the financial sector," he said. In her Budget speech in February, finance minister Sitharaman had said that the high level of provisioning by public sector banks of their stressed assets calls for measures to clean up the bank books through ARCs.

Cabinet okays PLI scheme for solar, white goods units

Budgetary outlay of ₹6,238 crore for white goods incentives and ₹4,500 crore for solar

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SHEKHAR YADAV

THE Union Cabinet on Wednesday approved a production linked incentive (PLI) scheme for white goods and solar PV module manufacturing plants, with a budgetary outlay of ₹6,238 crore and ₹4,500 crore respectively.

"The PLI scheme for white goods shall extend an incentive of 4 per cent to 6 per cent on incremental sales of goods manufactured in India for a period of five years to companies engaged in manufacturing of Air Conditioners and LED Lights," an official statement said.

Announcing the scheme, Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal said it is estimated that over five years, the scheme will lead to an incremental investment of ₹7,920 crore, incremental production worth ₹1,68,000 crore, exports worth ₹64,400 crore, earn direct and indirect revenues of ₹49,300 crore and create additional four lakh direct and indirect employment opportunities.

The selection of companies eligible for the scheme will be done based on products which are not manufactured in India presently with sufficient capacity. Just assembly of finished goods, the Centre says, will not be incentivised.

"Companies meeting the prequalification criteria for different target segments will be eligible to participate in the scheme. Incentives shall be open to companies making brownfield or greenfield investments," it said, adding that manufacturers have to meet the compulsory BIS (Bureau of Indian Standards) norms in order to sell in the domestic market and maintain applicable standards for global markets.

According to Goyal, the scheme would help in increasing value addition from 25 per cent to 75 per cent in the AC segment and 40-45 per cent in LED lights. The Union Cabinet also approved a similar scheme with an outlay of ₹4,500 crore to add 10,000 MW of capacity for integrated solar PV modules. The scheme will bring direct investment of around ₹17,200 crore in the solar PV manufacturing sector and is likely to create direct employment of around 30,000 and indirect employment of 1.2 lakh.

Realtors welcome status quo on rates, but worried about inflation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BUOYED by the unchanged low interest rates and government sops, India's real estate sector welcomed the RBI's decision to keep key rates unchanged. However, industry members also expressed concern over the rising inflation rate and the ongoing second Covid wave, both of which, they say, need to be contained to prevent a backslide

India's retail inflation, measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI), rose to 5.03 per cent in February from 4.06 per cent in January while Covid-19 cases have already crossed the 1 lakh/day mark here.

"We are worried over the second wave of the COVID-19 pandemic," said CREDAI National President Harsh Vardhan Patodia. Anuj Puri, Chairman – ANAROCK Property Consultants added that "with consumer inflation still trending at the upper end, the RBI intends to keep an eye on it in the coming months. India is witnessing its worst second wave of Covid-19, raising some uncertainty."

Industry players also said that lockdown-like restrictions announced in major markets such as Pune and Mumbai has slowed down construction activity in the region again. Daily enquiries and bookings have also recorded a marked trend downwards over the past one week.

SEBI slaps ₹25 cr penalty on Ambani bros, family

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Market watchdog SEBI on Wednesday slapped a total penalty of ₹25 crore on Mukesh Ambani, Anil Ambani, their wives, and certain other family members in a case that dates back two decades to 2000.

Apart from Mukesh and Anil ambani, those penalised include Nita Ambani, Tina Ambani, K D Ambani, and other family members. Nita is the wife of Mukesh Ambani and while Tina is married to Anil Ambani.

According to the regulator's 85 page order, Reliance Industries' promoters and Persons Acting in Concert (PAC) had failed to disclose the acquisition of a 6.83 per cent stake RIL in 2000. The businesses had later been split up between Mukesh and Anil Ambani in 2005 after the death of their father Dhirubhai Ambani.

Sebi noted that RIL's promoters had acquired stake in 2000 through the conversion of 3 crore warrants issued to them back in 1994. This was in excess of the 5 per cent ceiling mandated for such takeovers under the law.

Thus, SEBI said, the obligation to make a public announcement about acquiring the shares arose on January 7, 2000, the date on which the equity had been issued.

Under SEBI norms, a promoter group acquiring more than 5 per cent of the voting rights, in any financial year ending March 31, is required to make an open offer to minority shareholders. "No quantifiable figures or data are available on record to assess the' disproportionate gain or unfair advantage... However, the fact remains that the noticees by their failure to make public announcement deprived the shareholders of their statutory rights/ opportunity to exit from the company," the regulator said.

Supplier drags OYO firm to bankruptcy court over disputed ₹16 lakh payment

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a surprising development, the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) has ordered the commencement of insolvency proceedings against OYO Hotels and Homes Pvt. Ltd (OHHPL), a unit of hotel aggregator Oyo Rooms, over a dispute regarding payments worth ₹16 lakh.

The NCLT had admitted the insolvency plea on March 30, filed by Rakesh Yadav, who claims that OHHPL defaulted for an amount of ₹16 lakh. The tribunal has now ordered the creditors of OHHPL to submit their claims by April 15 to the interim resolution professional (IRP) based in Ahmedabad.

"Notice is given that the National Company Law Tribunal has ordered the commencement of a corporate insolvency resolution process of the OYO Hotels and Homes Pvt. Ltd on 30th March 2021 (w.e.f. 01st April 2021). The creditors of M/S. OYO Hotels and Homes Pvt. Ltd, are hereby called upon to submit their claims with proof on or before 15th April, 2021 to the interim resolution professional," read the NLCT order.

Oravel Stays Pvt Limited, the parent company of Softbank-backed OYO Rooms, has challenged the NCLT order and said that the disputed amount has already been paid to the claimant. "We are surprised to hear that Hon'ble NCLT has admitted a petition against OHHPL, a subsidiary of OYO, for INR 16 lakhs in a contractual dispute, which dispute is not even with this subsidiary. We have filed an appeal. The matter is sub-judice and we would refrain from commenting further on the merits of the matter at this stage. We have strong faith and belief in the judicial system," said an OYO spokesperson.

OYO founder and CEO Ritesh Agarwal also said that reports that the company had filed for bankruptcy was "absolutely untrue and inaccurate."

MEIL's first indigenous oil rig begins drilling

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

MEGHA Engineering & Infrastructures Ltd (MEIL) on Wednesday said that its first indigenously-made oil drilling rig has begun operations at the Kalol oil fields in Ahmedabad, Gujarat. MEIL is the first company in the private sector to manufacture and use rigs used in the oil and fuel extraction segment, a statement said.

The rig, which became operational on Wednesday, is part of an order worth ₹6,000 crore for 47 drilling rigs that MEIL bagged from ONGC in 2019 through a tender process.

According to the company, boasting a capacity of 1500 HP (horse power), these rigs can easily dig oil wells up to a depth of 4,000 meter (4 kilometers) from ground level and have a life span of 40 years.

The remaining 46 rigs, the company pointed out, are in various stages of manufacture currently. Of these, two are in the assembly stage in the oil fields of Rajahmundry in Andhra Pradesh, while the remaining will be supplied to ONGC's oil fields in Assam, Tripura, and Tamil Nadu.

"We can improve the domestic economy by increasing domestic oil production, (which will) reduce the oil import burden. ONGC will benefit from these advanced rigs manufactured with the latest technology," said P Rajesh Reddy, MEIL Vice President, "The company, aims to begin commercial production soon with the advanced indigenous technology to drilling oil wells". Reddy added that MEIL has become a hope for India in the area of oil and fuel extraction rigs, for which it was mostly dependent on imports until now.

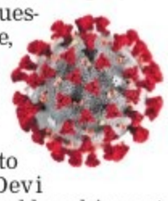
India pull out after 2nd judoka tests +ve

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

INDIA'S woes compounded in Bishkek, Kyrgyzstan as second judoka from the contingent tested Covid positive on Wednesday. The Indian team comprising 15 judokas and four support staff had already been quarantined in a hotel after one of the male players returned positive on Tuesday. The team is in Bishkek to compete in the Asia-Oceania Championships. Since competing was not possible,

A source monitoring the development confirmed to this daily that the team members along with Judo Federation of India (JFI) has sought Indian Embassy's help to ensure those who tested negative get permission to fly back to India if the team is not allowed to participate in the tournament.

"A female judoka tested positive today (Wednesday). She was also training at SAI Centre in Bhopal like the male player, who was found positive on Tuesday," said a source. "Our players were not allowed to compete on the first day (Tuesday) and with the second player testing positive, we could not compete today (Wednesday) also. After a meeting held in the evening, it was decided to pull out in the best interest our of judokas."



The event offers crucial ranking points to qualify for the Tokyo Olympics. Shushila Devi (-48kg) is the best placed India judoka in the world rankings at the moment. Apart from her, Avtar Singh (-100kg), Jasleen Singh Saini (-66kgw) and Tulika Maan (+78kg) are also in contention for securing an Olympic berth each. "Apart from these two players, two more will have to serve a 14-day quarantine period as they all came together from Bhopal centre and stayed together here in a hotel," informed the source. The source also confirmed that the team members didn't get food for the past 24 hours. "We were asked to stay in a hotel but were not served food. Somehow we managed to order the food online only today after 24 hours."

Notably, all the team members were tested thrice before leaving for Bishkek. They were tested again at the airport on landing. However, the first judoka tested positive in the fifth test. Later SAI said that the team withdrew from the tournament. It also said that they are in talks with the Ministry of External Affairs to bring the athletes back safe.

RCB'S SAMS LATEST TO CONTRACT VIRUS

Royal Challengers Bangalore all-rounder Daniel Sams has tested positive for Covid-19, the franchise said in a statement. His report from the second test on April 7 was positive. It means that the player will not be available for, at least, the first two games of the season. However, opener Devdutt Padikkal, who had tested positive on March 22, joined the camp in Chennai after testing negative on Wednesday.

36 & counting at SAI Bhopal

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

AFTER NIS Patiala, SAI's National Centre of Excellence (NCOE) in Bhopal has emerged as a new hotbed for Covid-19 infections with 36 people including 24 athletes testing positive since April 3. The athletes have been shifted to a private hospital where a special ward has been set up for them.

"Precautionary Covid tests were conducted at the National Centre of Excellence, Bhopal, on April 3 (Saturday) and on April 6 (Tuesday). In the two tests conducted, a total of 36 people have tested positive for Covid, out of whom 24 are athletes, and the other 12 who are staff of NCOE," said a SAI statement.

Notably, two judokas from the Bhopal centre had left for Bishkek, Kyrgyzstan on April 3 to compete in the Asia-Oceania Championships and tested positive upon arrival. The Indian team eventually pulled out of the tournament on Wednesday. "We have set up a SAI ward for these athletes on the first floor. All of them underwent CT scans on arrival. They have normal to mild infection and would be required to spend at least 10 days in isolation," Gaurav Bajaj, a management executive from Chirayu Hospital and Medical College, where these athletes have been admitted, said.

SAI has initiated close monitoring of athletes in Bhopal. It is understood that tests have been conducted on almost everyone inside the campus. However, it is understood that training at the venue would go on in a staggered manner. In Patiala, the SAI is trying to ensure that no Olympic-bound athletes miss their training. Movement of athletes, coaches and administrative staff is being monitored.

NEW SOPS: SAI INCREASES TESTING

The SAI on Wednesday has released a new set of standard operating procedures (SOPs) to curb Covid spread on SAI campuses and NCOEs. "Weekly testing of all athletes, support staff and administration will be conducted and strict quarantine norms have been set up," said a SAI statement.

The new SOP stated that the athlete should take an RT-PCR test within 72 hours before arrival and should be allowed in the centre only if the report is negative. "Further, an RT-PCR test will be conducted for national campers on the 6th day of quarantine and thereafter, every week. They will be allowed to train if negative, and will be treated according to state government protocol, if tested positive," added the statement.

The statement also stated that the national campers, who are Olympic probables, will have to follow a seven-day quarantine with training being allowed with Covid appropriate protocols, which will be conducted in staggered timings with supervision by the coach.

Bengaluru FC affected too

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

The second wave of Covid-19 has hit Bengaluru FC, with the club announcing three positive cases among players and staff on Wednesday. The club is currently training in Goa for the upcoming AFC Qualifiers against Tribhuwan Army FC from Nepal at the GMC Stadium in Bambolim on April 14. "Latest Covid-19 tests within the Blues' camp in Goa have shown three positive cases among players and staff. Bengaluru FC continues to take all the necessary precautions at the highest levels to stay safe, secure and healthy," the club announced on their twitter handle. Following the confirmed positive cases, it has been understood that another round of testing was conducted on Wednesday too. It is not something new for the club, who has regularly tested their players and staff. However, their preparations have been affected with one of their closed door practice matches scheduled for Wednesday being cancelled.

TEAM WATCH MI IPL 1 DAY TO GO

Defending champions, five-time winners and a near perfect squad. Mumbai Indians have all the boxes checked when it comes to being the odds-on favourites going into the 2021 season. Three of their titles came in the last four years and they also erased the dubious record of faring poorly in the UAE by lifting the title there. Under Rohit Sharma, the Mumbai juggernaut continues to march ahead, and with some new acquisitions, they have already bolstered what is a formidable squad. Kiwi pacer Adam Milne was roped in alongside the likes of Jimmy Neesham.

STRENGTHS

A big reason behind their many title triumphs is a core group of players who form the spine of the team. While Rohit has been spearheading the team to unparalleled success, the likes of Kieron Pollard, Jasprit Bumrah, Hardik Pandya and Krunal Pandya form the core of the team. Rohit and Pollard have won the title five times while the others have four titles to their name. The team has also managed to cope with the loss of senior players. In Lasith Malinga's absence, Trent Boult stepped up for the side alongside Bumrah as they marched to the title. With these proven match winners in the squad, Mumbai will back themselves once again.

WEAKNESSES

While Mumbai have a fearsome pace attack led by the likes of Jasprit Bumrah and Trent Boult with good back-ups, their spin department might not be as well stocked. The likes of Krunal Pandya and Rahul Chahar are seasoned campaigners but the team lacks back-ups for them. While the likes of Nathan Coulter-Nile and Adam Milne provide fall back options for Rohit, the same can't be said for the spinners. It could be an area that opposition teams can look to exploit. Although Mumbai signed Piyush Chawla, the veteran spinner had a forgettable campaign in 2020 and it remains to be seen if he can make an impact for Mumbai.

THREATS For a lot of players, it will be about going from bio-bubble to another which can be mentally challenging. And keeping the motivation going for a side which has won back to back titles would be a crucial factor. Mumbai are enjoying a golden era at the moment and they'd look to continue winning. But mental fatigue can play a factor and the other teams would be extra motivated to break their dominance. Complacency could be their biggest undoing.

In the best phase of my career, says Natarajan

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

THE last four months or so has been straight out of a comic book for T Natarajan. Debuts in all three formats, some high class bowling at the death and a genuine option for India in both white-ball formats going forward. So it's not a surprise to hear the southpaw say this is the 'best phase of my career'.

"I am in the best phase of my career. Never thought that I will play for India in all the three formats. I am also in a good frame of mind and I am keen to contribute to Sunrisers Hyderabad's success," he tells this daily.

The left-arm pacer, who came into the limelight with his ability to bowl yorkers, has since earned the praise of the likes of Virat Kohli and David Warner. Even if that has created an expectation, Natarajan says it's good that people expect him to deliver. "It is good that people expect me to deliver. I do not put unnecessary pressure on me. I go about my task in a professional manner and do what the captain wants me to do," he insisted.

One thing that Natarajan will find different is playing in 'home conditions'. He hasn't done that since last August. But the 30-year-old feels it's good to be playing in 'home conditions'. "It is good to be playing at home conditions. But T20 is a different ball game. Kolkata Knight Riders (their first match) is a strong side. So we will first see the wicket and the conditions before the game and then go about the task. Playing at Chepauk is definitely a big plus,'' said Natarajan.

With the likes of Kane Williamson, Johnny Baristow, Jason Holder, Rashid Khan, Bhuvaneshwar Kumar and skipper Warner, Hyderabad are a formidable side, at least on paper. Natarajan agrees. "We have a good squad that ticks all the boxes. We have some quality batsman in our ranks and good variety in our attack."

All the four Olympic-bound boxers —MC Mary Kom (51 kg), Simranjit Kaur (60 kg), Lovlina Borgohain (69kg) and Pooja Rani — are part of the squad.

The pugilists from the rest of the categories made the cut after doing well at the trials that was conducted from April 1 to 3 at the Delhi IG Stadium, where the camp is currently being conducted. Sailor Nethra on cusp of making Olympic cut

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

AFTER a couple of rousing days on the water, sailor Nethra Kumanan has almost assured herself of a place in the Tokyo Games. At the ongoing Musannah Open Championship off the Millenium Resort in Oman, the Chennai girl, who sails in the Laser Radial Class, Nethra continued her serene progress by remaining in first place after Tuesday's set of races. Even though Netherlands' Emma Savelon is just three points behind her, the Dutch girl cannot win a Olympic quota from this event. Nethra's nearest competitor is compatriot Ramya Saravanan, who is 21 points behind the 22-year-old (39.0 to 18.0).

All Nethra, who won a medal at the sailing World Cup last January, has to do on the final day of races on Thursday is to have an incident free race. As long as she finishes the race, she will become the first Indian sailor to qualify through the conventional route and not via quota or a wildcard. She will also become the first Indian woman to qualify in sailing.

If India do have a good day on the water in Oman, they do have the chance to win more two additional spots.

In the 49er Class, the duo of KC Ganapathy (captain) and Ashok Thakkar (crew), Asian Games medallists from three years ago in Jakarta, continue to lead the pack ahead of the Hong Kong's Akira Sakai and Russel Aylsworth. As long as they can keep up the good work, they will join Nethra in going to Tokyo.

If the wind sails the right way, the trio could be joined by Vishnu Saravanan, an athlete in the Laser Standard Class. He is currently in third place, just behind Thailand's Keerati Bualong. "49er and Laser Standard will be decided tomorrow (Thursday)," Alexandr Denisiuc, Vishnu's coach, told this daily. If they do manage to get through, it would be remarkable considering all their equipment was stuck in Abu Dhabi till a week ago.

Kevin de Bruyne celebrates after scoring against Dortmund | AP

RESULTS: Quarter-finals (first leg): At Manchester: Manchester City (ENG) 2-1 Borussia Dortmund. At Madrid: Real Madrid (ESP) 3-1 Liverpool (ENG).

MANCHESTER: Phil Foden struck a 90th minute winner as Manchester City took a slender 2-1 lead from the first leg of their Champions League quarterfinal tie against Borussia Dortmund on Tuesday. Kevin De Bruyne, who signed a two-year contract extension, opened the scoring on 19 minutes, but Dortmund grabbed a vital away goal when Erling Haaland teed up Marco Reus to equalise six minutes from time. Foden scored at the death to give Pep Guardiola's men the advantage.

RUTHLESS REAL MADRID: Real Madrid have made a habit of saving their best for the biggest moments of the season and their 3-1 win over Liverpool in the Champions League on Tuesday suggested they could be ready to do it again. Madrid rolled back the years with a performance reminiscent of their most ruthless days under Zinedine Zidane, when they powered through the knock-out stages to win three European titles in a row.

TOP scheme induction major boost for paddler Sutirtha

AYANTAN CHOWDHURY @ New Delhi

SOME good news for India's Sutirtha Mukherjee who qualified for the Tokyo Olympics last month. On Wednesday, after a Misson Olympic Cell meeting here, it was decided that the 25-year-old will be included in the TOP scheme core team until the Olympics.

The Commonwealth Games gold medallist was earlier a part of the TOPs development group. The financial help received from the scheme would be a huge boost ahead of her first-ever Olympics. While the development group includes a monthly stipend of ₹25,000, the core group has a monthly allowance double of what the development group offers.

"I'm very happy to be included in the TOP scheme. We can now realistically look at foreign exposure tours or bringing in sparring partners in case travelling is not possible," the paddler from Naihati said.

Her coach Soumyadeep Roy outlined the specific plans he has for his ward. "She is an attacking player and in my academy, she already trains with three top-10 Indian male players which has greatly benefited her game. But what we need is a chopper as the world game is dominated by them and India has a dearth of quality choppers. So bringing in someone of that ilk from preferably Asia would be of immense help," Soumyadeep added. Foreign training plans, whether it be in Europe or Asia, will depend on the COVID-19 situation.

Sutirtha belongs to a middle-class family and the monthly remuneration received as part of the scheme will also aid her family who have given everything to watch their daughter succeed. "She is a shy girl and does not usually speak aloud about her problems but this will most certainly give her a boost to her family as well," her coach revealed. Sutirtha and her mother live in a rented house close to the academy run by Soumyadeep and former CWG medallist Poulami Ghatak.

Despite being a national champion, CWG medallist and now an Olympian, Sutirtha is yet to find herself a equipment sponsor, the likes of which almost all table tennis exponents have. And the coach and player duo are hopeful of TOPs support in that regard as well. "We need to change her rubbers and that requires a few alterations and extra handles as well. We will be talking to the TOPs department to try and solve these issues as well. I'm sure the road will be much smoother from now on," both added.

The paddler represents Haryana in the domestic circuit and the state government has assured her of help whenever required.

FOUAAD ALSO INCLUDED

Rider Fouaad Mirza has been added to the TOP Scheme. Fouaad, who needs to meet a Minimum Eligibility Requirement to qualify for the Olympics, has been based in Germany for the last few years in a bid to punch his Tokyo ticket. "My father (Husneyn) just called me to tell that I'm in it," he told this daily. Interestingly, his name was suggested to the panel by Athletics Federation of India president Adille Sumariwalla.

Bhavani, Bari added

Fencer Bhavani Devi was also inducted into the TOP scheme on Wednesday while young recurve archer Komalika Bari who will be vying for Olympic qualification in June was also added to the scheme.

Lava is flowing from a third fissure that opened overnight in Iceland's nearly three-week-old volcanic eruption near the capital Reykjavik, officials said on Wednesday. The spectacular eruption began on March 19 when a first fissure disgorged a steady stream of lava, flowing into the Geldingadalir valley of Mount Fagradalsfjall on Iceland's southwestern tip.

UK panel urges alternative to Astra vax for under-30s

Course correction comes after EU regulator says vaccine is possibly linked to blood clots; WHO experts say connection is plausible, but not confirmed

MEDICINE

LONDON: The European Union drug regulator said Wednesday that it found a "possible link" between the AstraZeneca coronavirus vaccine and a rare clotting disorder but declined to impose any new age restrictions, saying the benefits of the shot still outweigh risks. A UK government advisory panel, however, said it would offer Britons under 30 the choice of another product.

The European Medicines Agency described the clots as "very rare" side effects. It said most of the cases reported have occurred in women under 60 within two weeks of vaccination — but based on the currently available evidence, it was not able to identify specific risk factors. Experts reviewed several dozen cases that came mainly from Europe and the United Kingdom. The AstraZeneca vaccine is distributed under the name Covishield in India.

"The reported cases of unusual blood clotting following vaccination with the AstraZeneca vaccine should be listed as possible side effects of the vaccine," said Emer Cooke, the agency's executive director.

Children's trial paused

Oxford University said on Tuesday that it had paused a British trial of the AstraZeneca vaccine on children. The university said the trial had posed "no safety concerns", but it was awaiting more data from authorities before restarting the study.

But it placed no new age restrictions on using the vaccine in people 18 and over, as some countries have done. "The risk of mortality from Covid is much greater than the risk of mortality from these side effects.," Cooke said.

Dr. June Raine, the head of Britain's Medicines and Healthcare Products Regulatory Agency (MHRA), echoed that sentiment, saying that the benefits "continue to outweigh the risks for the vast majority of people." She called the unusual clots a "potential side effect" of the vaccine and said the evidence was "firming up," but more study was needed to be sure.

Wei Shen Lim, of the Joint Committee on Vaccination and Immunisation, a UK government panel that advises on coronavirus vaccinations, said, "Adults who are aged 18 to 29 years old who do not have an underlying health condition... should be offered an alternative Covid-19 vaccine in preference to the AstraZeneca vaccine."

England's deputy chief medical officer Jonathan Van-Tam described the new advice as "a course correction" in the jabs drive. "There's no question about that, but it is in a sense, in medicine, quite normal for physicians to alter their preferences for how patients are treated over time it's happened with vaccines," he said.

MHRA said their review had found 79 blood clots and 19 deaths among people who had received at least one of the 20 million AstraZeneca doses administered in the UK.

The EMA, the World Health Organization and other health authorities have said repeatedly that the AstraZeneca vaccine is safe and effective and that the protection it offers outweighs the small risks of rare blood clots.

The WHO's advisory vaccine panel said on Wednesday a causal link between the vaccine and rare cases of blood clots with low platelets is "considered plausible but is not confirmed".

The EMA's investigation was particularly focused on two types of rare blood clots: one that appears in multiple blood vessels and another that occurs in a vein that drains blood from the brain.

1 in 3 Covid survivors affected by brain disorders, large study finds

One in three people who overcome Covid-19 suffer from a neurological or psychiatric diagnosis six months on, according to the largest study so far published on the mental toll that long-Covid takes on survivors

2,36,400

The researchers studied the health records of 2,36,400 patients who had recovered from Covid-19, based on records from TriNetX, an organisation that collects anonymised health data from 62 healthcare sites, mostly in the US, comprising 81 million patients

34%	17%	14%	34%
of the patients studied were diagnosed with a neurological or psychiatric condition within six months	had anxiety	had mood disorders	of patients had their first diagnosis of mental health issue

COMPARISON WITH OTHER INFECTIONS

Authors said the research, printed Wednesday in The Lancet Psychiatry journal, proved that Covid-19 patients were significantly more likely to develop brain conditions than those suffering from other respiratory tract infections

44% greater risk of neurological and mental health diagnoses after Covid-19 than after flu, and a 16 percent higher risk than with respiratory tract infections. The authors examined data from more than 100,000 patients diagnosed with influenza and more than 236,000 diagnosed with any respiratory tract infection

SEVERE VS MILD COVID

The risk for brain disorders was generally higher in patients who had severe Covid-19

46% of patients who needed intensive care were diagnosed with neurological or psychiatric conditions within six months of recovery

2.7% of people needing intensive care suffered a subsequent brain haemorrhage, compared to 0.3 percent of people who weren't hospitalised

7% of those needing ICU care suffered a stroke, compared with 1.3 percent of patients who didn't

World's roof to warm faster

STUDY

The Tibetan Plateau, known as "the roof of the world", may warm faster than climate models have projected due to increasing greenhouse gas emissions, say researchers. The team, led by University of Chinese Academy of Sciences researchers, used CMIP5 -- an archive of comprehensive climate models -- in which historical simulations are driven by individual external forcings. The results showed that human influence is the dominant driver for the observed warming of the Tibetan Plateau (1.23°Celsius over 1961-2005) with the greenhouse gases in particular contributing approximately 1.37°Celsius, which was slightly offset by anthropogenic aerosols. The plateau will warm faster than previously expected in the future: under a medium carbon emission scenario, it is expected to warm by 2.25°Celsius in the mid-term (2041-2060). The Tibetan Plateau contains the largest volumes of ice outside the Arctic and Antarctic.

Power lines kill 100s of birds

CONSERVATION

Prosecutors have filed a suit against Spanish energy giant Endesa for the deaths of hundreds of birds electrocuted by its high-wire power lines, court documents show. Prosecutors are suing the utility for offences against the environment and wildlife for failing to adequately insulate its electricity cables and pylons, creating "a death trap" for birds. Electrocution occurs when birds touch two wires at a time or when they perch on a conductive pylon while also touching a cable. In their complaint, prosecutors said 255 birds died in the Osona region north of Barcelona between 2018 and 2020, including protected species such as white storks, griffon vultures, short-toed eagles and buzzards. "The electrocution and death of birds due to direct contact with the exposed conductors on pylons owned by the defendant has affected the whole province of Barcelona, constituting a veritable plague," the complaint reads.

Green hydrogen to cost less than natural gas by 2050: Forecast

CLIMATE

PARIS: Green hydrogen produced using renewable energy will soon plunge in cost, becoming cheaper than natural gas in many areas, according to a study released Wednesday by the research group BloombergNEF.

Hydrogen is considered a leader in the race to develop sustainable energy sources and slash carbon emissions.

But it is expensive to produce and the electricity needed generates a lot of CO_2 emissions or other pollutants.

Green hydrogen is produced via electrolysis -- an electrical current passing through water -- with wind, solar or hydroelectric power providing the electricity.

BloombergNEF (BNEF) researchers forecast its cost will fall steadily in the future, in large part due to lower prices for solar photovoltaic power (PV). "We now think that PV electricity will be 40 percent cheaper in 2050 than what we had thought just two years ago," BNEF specialists said in a report. "The costs of producing 'green' hydrogen from renewable electricity should fall by up to 85 percent from today to 2050".

In the majority of 28 markets covered by the study, green hydrogen production could cost less than one US dollar per kilogramme by 2050. In 15 of those markets – which represented one-third of global gross domestic product in 2019 -- it was forecasted to become cheaper than natural gas.

By just 2030, green hydrogen was projected to cost less than "blue hydrogen," which is produced with electricity generated by fossil fuels using a process that captures greenhouse gas emissions. It is expected to cost less than even dirtier "grey hydrogen", which lacks that process, by 2050.

"Such low renewable hydrogen costs could completely rewrite the energy map," BNEF hydrogen analyst Martin Tengler said.

UNICEF calls for simplifying vaccine IP rights

MEDICINE

UNITED NATIONS: The head of the UN children's agency has called for simplifying Intellectual Property Rights for manufacturing COVID-19 vaccines, cautioning that at the current rate, there is "simply not enough' supply of doses to meet the surging demand.

"In order to get ahead of the virus, and to shift gears, we must build on a strategy of vaccinating frontline workers but drive towards a strategy that truly enables equitable access for all," UNICEF Executive Director Henrietta Fore said in a statement.

Governments that have contracted to receive more 'future doses' than required to vaccinate their entire adult populations this year, should immediately loan, release or donate most or all excess contracted doses for 2021 to COVAX, so they can be allocated equitably elsewhere, she said.

Microsoft puts servers in liquid

TECHNOLOGY

After sinking an entire data centre to the bottom of the Scottish sea, Microsoft has now started to submerge its servers in liquid to improve performance and save energy. According to a report in The Verge, a rack of servers is being used for production loads "in what looks like a liquid bath".

The fluorocarbon-based liquid works by removing heat as it directly hits components, and the fluid reaches a lower boiling point to condense and fall back into the bath as a raining liquid. This liquid cooling has been used by cryptocurrency players to mine for bitcoin and other cryptocurrencies. "It potentially will eliminate the need for water consumption in data centres, so that's a really important thing for us," Christian Belady, vice president of Microsoft's data centre advanced development group, said.

EYE TO THE SKY

Sixty years after sending first human to space, Russia fails to show new achievements

SPACE

KOROLYOV: A station on the moon! A mission to Venus! A next generation spacecraft!

Sixty years after the Soviet Union made history by launching Yuri Gagarin into space on April 12, 1961, Russia continues to have lofty extraterrestrial ambitions, but its ability to realise them is more down to earth.

Project after project has been announced and then delayed, as grand designs fall victim to funding problems or bureaucratic inertia. The Kremlin's attention meanwhile is fixed on military ventures rather than space exploration.

A case in point is the project to replace Russia's ageing Soyuz capsule, a workhorse that has been ferrying astronauts into space since the 1960s and continues to be used for trips to the International Space Station.

First announced in 2009, the project to replace the Soyuz has been repeatedly pushed back. Even the name of the proposed capsule has changed multiple times, from the "Federation" to the "Oryol" (Eagle) and then a proposed smaller version called the "Orlyonok".

RKK Energia, the firm that builds the Soyuz, was awarded a development contract for the project. Standing in a museum at Energia's offices celebrating Soviet space accomplishments, the head of the firm's flight centre Alexander Kaleri boasts that the new capsule will be "bigger, with more powerful engines and more comfortable than the Soyuz."

But Kaleri, a veteran cosmonaut who flew several missions into space and spent months on the ISS and Mir space stations, concedes that the project is a long way from taking off.

"The goal is to carry out a first pilot-less test flight by 2023. For now we are starting by testing models for the capsule, it's a fairly long process."

Sputnik 1, humanity's first artificial satellite. On the right, Yuri Gagarin prepares to board Soviet Vostok I in 1961 prior to becoming the first man to travel in space | AFP

Russian space expert Vitaly Yegorov says the lengthy development is hardly surprising given "the technical difficulties, Western sanctions against the Russian space industry and a lack of funding" for the space programme.

With the Soyuz still flying, there is also no "acute need" for a replacement, he says.

Other projects have also stagnated, including the next generation Angara-A5 rockets meant to carry Russian space capsules, which have been in development since the 1990s but have launched only twice in test mode, in 2014 and 2020.

The Nauka laboratory module intended for the ISS, which began assembly in the 1990s, has also suffered a string of failures that have prevented it from entering orbit. Russia and China said recently they wanted to build a lunar space station, but didn't mention a timetable.

Russian space expert Vadim Lukashevich said the problem for Roscosmos is that when it comes to scientific projects, Vladimir Putin's mind is not on space exploration. "The priority for the Kremlin is military projects, especially the development of missiles," he said.

So while Russian defence spending has grown significantly in the last two decades, Roscosmos has seen its budget falling year by year.

Corporate honcho, mum to two and training for a triathlon ... Nirupa Shankar has her hands full and wouldn't have it any other way

SIMRAN AHUJA

FOR Nirupa Shankar, life's biggest challenge is to step outside her comfort zone.

"I intentionally take on things I'm afraid to do. The best way to overcome something is to dive right into it," she says.

Her current goal – despite being afraid of water and speed – is to participate in the half-Ironman in Greece this October. This event involves a 1.9km swim, 90km bike ride and 21.1km run, which is much more rigorous than the triathlon sprint she completed in 2017.

Which is why, for the past five months, the 38-year-old has spent 10-12 hours a week running, cycling, swimming, and doing yoga and strength training. This, in addition to being the executive director of Brigade Enterprises Limited and a mother of two.

This second-generation entrepreneur has never been one for the eat-work-play lifestyle. "It's too boring," she says simply. So barely six months after she had her second daughter, Shankar began to train for the half-Ironman, along with adopting an 'early to bed, early to rise' lifestyle. By the time of this midday interview, she had already ridden up and down Nandi Hills as part of her workout.

frankly speaking

"Everyone tells you to prepare to go up the hill but I find the descent scary and dangerous. You ride down at approximately 50km/hour," she says. A pack of dogs, monkeys that hopped onto her friend's bike, and the city's infamous bad roads... Training is always eventful, she says.

The adventure doesn't stop there. Since these events require swimming in an ocean, Shankar has been heading to Sappanahalli lake 70km away from the city to train in open waters. "But there are no people, no signage. If you ask the villagers if there are crocodiles, they just say they haven't seen any. There's no firm 'yes' or 'no', which is not reassuring," she says with a smile, hardly betraying any of the worry she feels while taking on such feats.

Interestingly, she hasn't found many women at such events. The hurdles, in such cases, are more societal than physical. "I've got remarks from all corners too," she says. But while there have been obstacles, cheerleaders have made their presence felt too. Namely, her husband, Varun Ravindra, who is the founder of Vanantara. "My husband's support makes it possible for me to have a rigourous training schedule. He's with the kids when I'm training," she adds.

Shankar's bond with her elder sister, Pavitra (also an executive director at the company) is strong, minus the occasional good-spirited sibling bickering. "We sit close to each other, often have lunch together, discuss issues and learn from each other. She's a big support," says Shankar. She wishes the same for her daughters, aged five and one.

"I just want them to be there for each other," she says.

Though Shankar has spent 12 years in the company – she started out as a management trainee – every year starts the same way: With her finding a new skill to enhance. 2021 was no different, with relationship development being the focus. As for personal aspirations, she says, "I want to complete the half-Ironman in October and then take it further."

Financial funda

In December last year, Shankar featured in the 'Kotak Wealth Hurun – Leading Wealthy Women' – a report on the wealthiest women in India. So, what should women's financial funda be? Pat comes the reply: "Be financially independent. And re-invest 10 per cent of your income per annum on yourself for skill development."

THE HAVES & THE HAVE NOTS

H2O juxtaposes the usage and availability of water in urban and rural contexts, and prompts us to re-think our attitudes

SANATH PRASAD

A teenaged girl struggles with her period and rushes to the toilet for water, only to find that the tap has run dry. Cut to a city, where a man is washing his car with water from a pipe.

This juxtaposition of the usage of water in urban and rural contexts is the core in H2O, a short film that is just under five minutes.

Made by Bengaluru-based founder of Theatre for Change Sujatha Balakrishnan, the film captures the struggle to obtain water in rural areas.

"The idea is to symbolically suggest the contrasting usage of water in rural and urban lifestyles. I am not dismissing the water issues that urban people face. However, tankers are just a call away when they fall short of water, which is not the case in rural areas," says the 68-year-old theatreperson.

Balakrishnan believes that it is important to capture viewers' attention within a short span of time and deliver a strong message. "An average individual consumes 50 litres of water every day. We use five litres of water for every flush. This story aims to awaken the social conscience of the youth and calls for responsible management of water," she says.

Balakrishnan, for whom social issues have always been important, is already planning another project on motherhood likely to be released on Mother's Day (May 9). "In a one-minute video, we want to feature mothers talking about what kind of space they want to raise their children in," Balakrishnan says.

H2O was shot in Baluvanahalli village in Chikkaballapur and Jayanagar in Bengaluru, in the first week of March and was released on March 22, to coincide with World Water Day. The cast, comprising around 12 people, were all non-actors.

The film was produced by Theatre for Change collective along with Greennote films and Owl creations. The film was directed by Sujatha Balakrishnan and Aniruddh Roy. Editing and camera work was handled by Lakshman Sastry from Greennote films.

The film is available on the You Tube channel of Theatre for Change.

Many Bengalureans have taken to riding a bicycle to work, and the fuel price hike is just one reason that made them take the plunge

Cycling and the city

SANATH PRASAD

WHEN fuel prices rose dramatically in the past, a popular meme that did the rounds was one of Batman going guns blazing on his Batmobile when fuel was affordable, and when prices shot up, a rather glum Batman is shown hitching a ride on Superman's back. Well, Superman is obviously not an option, but thankfully bicycles are, and since petrol prices zoomed past ₹90 and diesel touched ₹85 in early April, more and more people are trying it as means of transport in Bengaluru.

Bicycle stores say queries about bicycles and sales have gone up in recent months, and there's usually never just one reason to buy a bicycle.

"Since mid-February, there have been at least six-nine inquiries a week about cycling to work. Around 75 per cent of these have translated into sales. Rising fuel prices are definitely the reason. But at the same time, people just want to get from A to B without hassle. Also, people want to boost fitness by cycling to work. We usually recommend hybrid bikes because the riding position is upright and it has medium-thick tyres," says Rakshith Ravichandran, who handles distribution and maintenance of bicycles at Decathlon Anubhava on Ballari Road.

Freelance photographer Chandana Puttalingaiah believes rising fuel prices are all the more reason to switch. "I commute on my hybrid bike from JP Nagar for work in Yelachenahalli or Kumaraswamy Layout. It is about 50km per week and I easily save about ₹6,000-7,000 a month by not using the car," says Puttalingaiah.

Ravi Kumar, who works as technician in a bike shop, has been using his mountain bike from Electronics City to Jayanagar for the past four years. "I cover up to 40 km a day. It takes at least one hour on weekdays and little less on weekends. I save at least ₹3,000 a month on fuel by cycling to work," he says.

Founder of Bengaluru-based online bicycle store Bums On The Saddle Rohan Kini, says, "There is always a good reason to invest time in cycling, irrespective of the fuel price hike or the pandemic. All you need is the right size of cycle to bike to office." According to Kini, cycle sales have risen by four times in the last three months, resulting in a supply shortfall in the Bengaluru market.

Bengaluru's Bicycle Mayor Sathya Sankaran has formed an online community through the 'Cycle to Work' website which has a list of commuters and their daily ridership details to offices. "People pedal to improve health and contribute to better air quality by reducing the use of fuel-run vehicles. This has significantly contributed to the reduction of carbon levels, as per the data on our community," says Sankaran.

FIT BIT

TADASANA GOMUKHASANA

(STANDING COW FACE POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'tada' means mountain, 'asana' means pose and 'gomukha' means cow face. It is a combination of traditional mountain pose with the arm variation known as open cow face, which offer a stimulating and moderately challenging that requires shoulder flexibility and balance. As a chest opener, it helps the body reconnect with the mind and outer energies. The challenging aspect allows for mindfulness and increases concentration. Closing the eyes during the pose can connect the outer sensations felt in the body with the inner mind. If the fingers don't quite reach, a strap can be used to hold on to for support. It is important to keep the shoulders away from the ears as much as possible and to hold the pose for a few breaths.

STEPS

- Stand in Tadasana.
- Place the back of your left palm on the middle-back.
- Raise your right arm.
- Bend your right elbow and move your hand down with your palm facing your body.
- Place your right palm on your left palm and interlink the fingers.
- You may touch the fingertips of both hands to each other.
- But don't force your arms to bend – give yourself time to adjust to the action. Relax your arms.
- Open your right armpit to create space between your chest and your upper right arm.
- Keep your right elbow pointed up and back, and your right forearm close to your head.
- Place the back of your left wrist on your back.
- Hold the pose for 20-30 seconds. Then switch.

BENEFITS

- Boosts confidence.
- Helps treat depression.
- Helps alleviate cervical spondylosis.
- Improves breathing by opening up the chest.
- Strengthens the knee joints, arms, legs, back and core.
- Expands the chest to inhale more oxygen leading to an increase in energy.
- Stretches the full body.
- Helps in reducing sciatic pain.
- Useful for correcting flat feet.

LIMITATIONS

- Avoid this, if you have a cardiac condition, stress-related headaches, migraine, eye strain, insomnia, low blood pressure, osteoarthritis of the knees, diarrhoea or leucorrhoea.
- People who have had polio or any congenital deformity of the legs, or are knock-kneed, keep your feet about 25 cm or 10 inches apart.
- If you have backache, slipped disc, prolapsed uterus, or pain in the wrist, keep your big toes together and your heels slightly apart.

Bite of good health

Modern-day eating and diets can put your body at risk. Here are five food choices that can help deal with acid reflux

DR SHARANYA SRINIVAS SHASTRY

DO YOU ever wonder why people drink water from earthen pots along with a pinch of salt, or why our grandmothers used cumin in their cooking? Modern-day eating habits have come up with a few fancy diet trends that put the human body at risk for several health complications like acid reflux. Skipping meals can be harmful to the human body, resulting in heartburn, and acid reflux is also one of the main reasons for gastric health complications.

It is always advisable to consume food items mindfully and chew well before swallowing. A six-course meal pattern preceded by breakfast is healthy for the human body. Breakfast is the most important meal in the day; hence a routine that includes a healthy breakfast is ideal to avoid acid reflux.

The only key to control gastrointestinal problems or chronic acid reflux is eating the right food items. Below, are five superfood choices people can add to their food chart to avoid further complications and deal with acid reflux.

Overnight soaked almonds:

Almonds are rich in essential natural oils. They provide good quality fat and protein that is beneficial for the hair and skin. One can also include seasonal fruit like mango or bananas to satiate the taste buds.

Have a healthy breakfast regularly to avoid acid reflux

Home set curd

Buttermilk seasoned with coriander leaves or curd rice have the upper hand over any smoothie, especially in the summer season. Curd in any preparation acts as a probiotic and gives a soothing effect to keep the body cool and hydrated. Additionally, calcium, protein and vitamin B12 also help beat the summer heat.

Asafoetida

This spice is gaining popularity of late. It is antibacterial in nature and helps provide relief from infection, indigestion, and bloating.

Ginger

This helps in immunity-boosting and is effective for a healthy gut as it decreases the acid production in the stomach.

Home-made ghee

The most underrated nutrient of modern times is ghee. It is an antioxidant-rich in butyric acid that is beneficial for gut health and prevents constipation, bloating or acidity by decreasing the gastrointestinal tract's pH.

Controlling THE wave

DR NARESH SHETTY AND DR VIJAYASHREE

THE second Covid wave in India is now a fact. This continuous surge across the country has pushed the daily count past one lakh fresh cases. It has been on the rise for the last three weeks and new infections have risen at a faster rate than recoveries. These figures, which are more than one lakh, are the biggest single-day spike in cases since November 11 — 144 days. The death toll has also gone up, according to the Union Health Ministry data.

We are back to the same situation we were in last year. It could be partly because we are not as careful today as we were in 2020. And the virus has camouflaged better. Many newly-infected people do not seem to have the earlier symptoms of fever, sore throat and cough but have come with joint pains, loose motions, loss of appetite and other atypical symptoms. Another difference noticed is that more younger people are getting infected. Also, the present wave is associated with clusters of cases in families.

There are fears of the variants of the virus and doubtful effectiveness of present vaccines against them. As of March 31, the cumulative number of Covid-19 vaccine doses administered in the country had crossed 6.43 crore as per the Union Health Ministry. About three crore constituted the first dose for people above 60 years. India is currently averaging about two million doses a day. At this rate, it will take more than two years to vaccinate 60 per cent of our adults. The only way to win this war is to vaccinate more people and vaccinate at a faster rate. At the same time, we need to enforce safety measures of masking, safe distancing and hand sanitising.

Recent data shows that 10.2 million Indians have been fully immunised, which is 0.7 per cent of our population. We also need to guard the public from the misconception that people are safe after vaccination since infection by SARS-COV 2 is still possible. When scientists develop a vaccine against a novel virus, it's difficult to predict whether vaccination will completely prevent infection, or sterilizing immunity. Though many studies carried out on Covid vaccines suggest that they can prevent transmission, there are a lot of confounders involved in deciding whether a vaccine has actually led to a drop in the infection rate in a given region.

Historical evidence shows that vaccines that do not prevent virus infection can still stop epidemics. The polio vaccine developed by Dr Jonas Salk, which does not provide sterilising immunity, resulted in the rapid elimination of polio in the United States beginning in the 1950s.

There are also reports of people suffering from post-Covid syndrome for months and who have experienced improvement from symptoms after receiving just one dose of the vaccine. How and why this happens has left scientists puzzled. Until then, our best bet seems to be speeding up the process of universal vaccination.

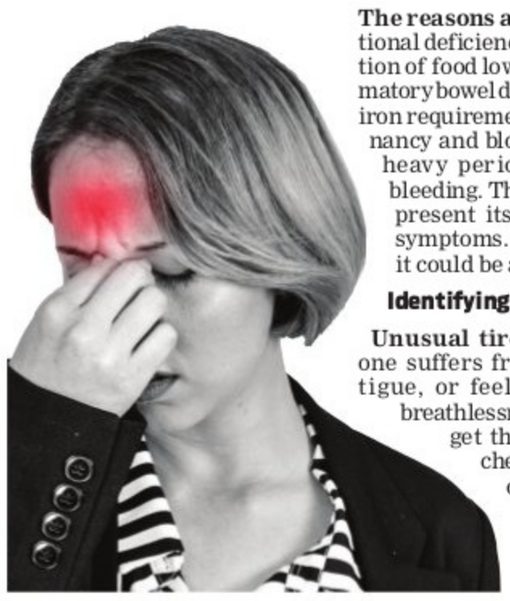
TACKLING ANAEMIA

Iron-fortified breads and cereals, peas, lentils, white, red and baked beans, soybeans, chickpeas, tofu, dried fruits, such as prunes, raisins, and apricots, spinach and other dark green leafy vegetables, prune juice and Vitamin C-rich foods can pack in an appropriate amount of iron to the body and help in tackling anaemia.

Identifying iron deficiency

DR S MANOHAR

Iron deficiency that results in anaemia has been a major public health burden in India. The incidence of anaemia is as much as 53.2 per cent among women and 21.7 per cent among men. Iron deficiency occurs when the body lacks adequate iron, which is essential to make haemoglobin, the protein in red blood cells enabling them to transfer oxygen around the body. Without enough haemoglobin, the body's tissues and muscles do not get adequate oxygen and compromises with their functioning. This is when one becomes anaemic.



What causes iron deficiency?

The reasons are many: nutritional deficiency and consumption of food low in iron, inflammatory bowel disease, increased iron requirements during pregnancy and blood loss through heavy periods or internal bleeding. The deficiency can present itself with varied symptoms. In certain cases, it could be asymptomatic.

Identifying iron deficiency

Unusual tiredness: In case one suffers from unusual fatigue, or feeling tired with breathlessness, they should get their hemoglobin checked. Excessive or chronic blood loss secondary to heavy menstrual blood flow, bleeding hemorrhoids or any other cause for slow chronic blood loss leads to anaemia. With inadequate haemoglobin production, body tissues and muscles get less oxygen and are energy deprived. The heart has to pump harder to provide oxygen to organs and tissues, which leads to fatigue.

Looking pale: Hemoglobin is responsible for the pink healthy look. Visible areas like the skin, the tongue, the inner surface of the eyelids, the nails and other visible areas appear pale to papery white.

Shortness of breath: This is otherwise called effort intolerance. When the demand for oxygen increases as during walking, climbing stairs or any mild forms of exercise, the heart rate and the force of contraction increase, making one experience fatigue, shortness of breath, palpitations, etc.

Headaches: Lack of haemoglobin may also result in inadequate oxygen reaching the brain, leading to widening of the blood vessels and increases blood pressure. This causes a headache and one may feel dizzy.

Palpitation or heart racing: In cases of iron deficiency, the heart has to work extra hard to carry oxygen around the body. This may result in irregular or fast heartbeat and even heart murmurs, an enlarged heart, or heart failure.

Dry and damaged hair and skin: In severe cases, it may also lead to hair loss. Keep an eye on your skin and hair health to identify iron deficiency at the right time.

Other signs: Strange cravings for food, a feeling of depression, cold hands and feet, and more frequent infections.

SOULFUL

Freedom and love

CONSIDERING there is so much violence, disorder and confusion in the world, not only in this country, but almost everywhere, it becomes more and more important to become very serious. Not serious according to one's own fancy or inclination, or according to any particular plan or system; because systems, organised belief, organised conduct, have completely failed, they have no meaning any more. Unfortunately, what apparently has meaning in this world at the present time is lawlessness, and in this country there is inefficiency, corruption, and each man, especially in the political world, is seeking his own fulfilment through ambition.

We all know this and we have become totally indifferent to it. We have lost our moorings, we are confused, and it seems to me that it is very important that each one of us should become extraordinarily serious. One of the things that we are serious about is when our pleasure is threatened or taken away, then we become not only violent, but somewhat serious. But we are talking about seriousness that demands complete attention, attention to what we are doing, what we are thinking, to our way of life. Because as one observes, all leadership has failed, there is no authority to tell us what to do, and if there is, we don't pay attention, we go on in our own pleasant way. Organised belief as religion has no longer any meaning whatsoever. And systems, whether the Communist system, or any other system or religion, or a system that one has developed for oneself according to which one functions and thinks – again these have failed. I think this is fairly obvious. It is obvious to anybody who is at all aware of what is going on in the world; not only in the world outside, but also in the world in which we live, in the family circle, the world of our own secret longings, secret desires and pleasures.

As there is so much confusion and violence, so much disorder and lawlessness, we – at least those of us who are somewhat earnest must commit ourselves, not to any particular belief, not to any particular system, but commit ourselves to a serious enquiry which will help us to live totally differently. Because what is needed, surely, is a way of life that will be completely orderly, which we as individuals and as human beings can find by enquiring, by seeking, questioning, by doubting, by totally discarding. Orderly, not according to a formula, but according to a serious attention which begins to enquire into every activity of our life. Such commitment is essential. I do not know if we realize not only outwardly, but also inwardly, how shoddy our lives are, how empty, meaningless, though we may well repeat some authority, or a religious book over and over again, or follow some religious leader. If we examine the way we live we shall find that it is very empty, lonely, miserable, confused and utterly meaningless. No temple, no book, no leader, no belief of any kind, nor any authority is going to solve this problem for us. Realising this, seeing what is actually taking place both outwardly and inwardly, one has to become extraordinarily serious and the commitment is to be serious.

'WE HAVE HEIGHTENED OUR FOCUS ON REGIONAL CONTENT'

With Bombay Begums and Pagglait starting Netflix's 2021 slate on a strong note, here's Netflix heads, Monika Shergill and Srishti Arya, letting us in on what we can expect from the platform this year

GOPINATH RAJENDRAN

RECENTLY, Netflix released its roster for this year that comprised about 40 titles that ranges from films and series to documentaries and comedy shows. The emphasis is on "more variety and diversity than we have seen before". With its first major Indian series, Bombay Begums, and film, Pagglait, releasing last month, here's Netflix India's Vice President Content, Monika Shergill and Director International Films, Srishti Arya, in conversation with us, as they speak of plans and challenges.

Excerpts:

What's the big difference in this year's slate?

Monika Shergill: 2020 was great for us, and this year will be a big leap from where we were last year, in terms of story scale, diversity, and variety, given that we are opening up new fronts like documentaries and new comedy shows. We will also return to content that did brilliantly for us last year, like Jamtara, Mismatched and Masaba Masaba. We are confident that it's a power-packed slate!

Srishti Arya: It's an emboldened slate that has given us the opportunity to take more risks.

What's your pick of all the titles?

Srishti: Aise kaise? (laughs) I am quite excited about Kapil Sharma coming on board for a show. On the series front, I am waiting for Decoupled (starring Madhavan and Surveen Chawla).

Monica: Oh, I have so many. As a viewer, I am excited about our list. I am looking forward to Aranyak (Raveena Tandon), and Yeh Kaali Kaali Ankhein (Shweta Tripathi) which is quite twisted. I also can't wait for Madhuri Dixit's Finding Anamika, and am excited for Kapil Sharma's show, Indian Predator, and the True Crime documentaries. We also have a documentary on Ma Sheela that covers her intense journey.

I also notice that there are a number of second seasons. What do you suppose prevented us from pursuing multiple seasons of shows until now, save for a rare show like Sacred Games?

Monica: I think series storytelling is still nascent here. We are completing five years this year, but we have been doing originals only for the last three years. With series, there is a longer turnaround time: 18-24 months, if not more. We have done a second season for series like Sacred Games, as you mentioned, and now, we have a second season coming up for many shows including Delhi Crime Season 2. Seasons take much longer to script, as the world-building becomes an intensive process. We are much more acclimatised as a creative industry to cater to films as that has been our core medium. We are just sharpening on multi-season series as an industry.

You were quite secretive about your plans for non-Hindi content last year. Has your strategy changed this time around?

Srishti: We have amped up our regional slate as far as licensed content is concerned. Currently, we are programming for about 11 languages across the service. It's about finding the right content at the right time for the right language. Look out for Navarasa and Jagame Thanthiram (smiles).

Monica: We had Paava Kathaigal, Pitta Kathalu and Miss India last year, and this time, we have nine films in Navarasa coming up. We have a stellar slate coming up as we are ramping up across languages.

Does the reopening of theatres change your plans?

Srishti: We have always invested in original films and this is something we started in 2018 with Lust Stories. So far, we have launched over 30 originals; last year, we did 17. The idea is to come up with original content. Sometimes, we enter at the development stage, and sometimes, we wait for it to get ready before we pick it up. We are happy that theatres are reopening, and remain committed to doing originals.

Theatre owners in the South demand a decent window before a film ends up on an OTT platform. What's your take?

Srishti: We want to bring our content as quickly as we can to our members, but we are happy that the licence side supports what the industry ecosystem believes. As far as originals are concerned, we launch them in 190 countries on the same day and that seems to have worked really well for us.

Regulation of OTT content is making the headlines often. How do you see this evolving conversation?

Monica: This is the same across platforms, and everyone is studying the new guidelines. What we must recognise is that the government and the industry at large are trying to do the best by the consumers and the creators. We too are focussed on doing this. Our slate is enough to tell everyone that we are excited and bullish about our content and the business as a whole.

You were the first high-profile streaming service to earn an Academy Award nomination. Do you have any plans to tailor content to win, say, the National Awards in India?

Srishti: Getting an award means a lot to us and our creators. We are studying the new guidelines that have come into place recently. The effervescence we saw when Delhi Crime, Lust Stories, and Sacred Games won international recognition was super-encouraging. This year, we have already picked up quite a few awards on both series and film side.
